Moon Goal Helped By Saturn Success

Cape Kennedy, Fla. (AP) — A 92-foot-long segment of America's Saturn man-to-the-moon rocket thundered into orbit Tuesday with a belly load of high-energy hydrogen fuel and hurdled an important milestone in the lunar landing program.

The vehicle became this nation's heaviest satellite.

Devices riding on the television-equipped flying laboratory, called a Saturn 4B, successfully kept its highly-volatile hydrogen fuel in a proper position for the 29-ton rocket stage to twice restart during a 4½-hour, three-orbit mission through space.

A successful sequence of events carried out during Tuesday's flight "was a dramatic demonstration that the engine could have been refired in orbit," National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials said.

This technical feat must occur when three American astronauts venture to the moon. During the lunar trip, the Saturn 4B — which will then be the third stage of a Saturn 5 moon rocket — must coast in earth orbit about 4½ hours so astronauts can check out spacecraft systems. It must then restart to propel the spacemen toward the moon.

After nearly two hours of delays caused by a troublesome television camera aboard the Saturn 4B, the record-breaking rocket stage roared skyward from Cape Kennedy Tuesday at 10:53 a.m. (EDT) as the second stage of a giant Saturn 1 booster. Officials decided to fly with only one of two cameras operating, and it performed perfectly.

The 173-foot-tall Saturn 1—most powerful rocket the U.S. has ever launched — shoved its pay load skyward with 1.6 million pounds of muscle generated by eight engines aboard the first stage. The hydrogen-fueled second stage ignited at about 50 miles altitude and propelled itself into a near-perfect orbit ranging from 115 to 117 miles above earth.

This 58,537-pound rocket stage immediately became America's heaviest satellite. It is 19,300 pounds heavier than the previous record-holder—another Saturn second stage with a dummy model of the three-man Apollo moonship attached, which was launched Sept. 18, 1964.

Russia's heaviest satellite is believed to be Proton 2, a flying physics laboratory launched Nov. 2, 1965. That satellite consisted of 26,900 pounds of pure instruments. The weight total does not count the last stage of the Russian rocket, which conceivably could put it over the American record.

Tuesday's launch was purely an engineering test to see if any major modifications were needed to the Saturn's upper stage to tame the liquid hydrogen fuel in weightlessness.

Donald Lay Named 8th Circuit Judge

Washington (AP) —President Johnson Tuesday announced the nomination of Donald P. Lay, 39, of Omaha, Neb., to the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals.

Lay was one of four men nominated for judicial posts by the President at his news conference. All are subject to Senate confirmation.

Lay, at 39, would be the youngest man to be appointed to the court of appeals in 25 years, the White House said.

Lay is a member of the bars of Iowa, Nebraska and Wisconsin. He has taught at Omaha University.

The 8th Circuit serves Minnesota, Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota, North Dakota, Arkansas and Missouri.

Lay was nominated to the vacancy caused by the retirement of Judge Harvey M. Johnson of Omaha.

In Omaha, Lay greeted his nomination with the comment it was a great chance to contribute to society and a great challenge.

Lay graduated from the University of Iowa College of Law in February of 1959 and after practicing two years in Milwaukee came to Omaha. He is a member of the firm of Eisenstatt, Lay, Higgins and Miller.

His work has been in the field of trial cases.

Lay has for several years been a member of the National College of Trial Lawyers faculty, being the only attorney member. The rest were judges.

Civil Disobedience Rapped

. . . MORRISON RUSHES BACK FROM MEETING

Omaha (AP) — Gov. Frank Morrison flew into Omaha Tuesday night from the governor's conference at Los Angeles to lend a hand in stemming racial disturbances that have shook the city the last three nights, and told newsmen, "Under no circumstances will civil disobedience be allowed in this state so long as I am governor."

The disturbances on Omaha's Near North Side—a predominantly Negro area—began early Sunday morning, broke out again early Monday morning and then again early Tuesday morning.

Adult and young Negroes threw bottles, rocks and bricks. Store windows were smashed and there was considerable looting. Monday the situation was adjudged so serious that six companies of Omaha National Guardsmen were mobilized. Then, after the outbreak early Tuesday, additional companies outstate were mobilized.

In the press conference, Morrison stressed that the majority of the people are responsible law abiding citizens, but he said, "This is not a typical racial conflict with black versus white or white versus black."

"Instead it is a group of young people who attempted to take the law into their own hands. This will not be tolerated as long as I am governor," Morrison said.

"Under no circumstances can civil disobedience and violence be condoned."

"The National Guard is not a permanent police force. I pledge to the people of Omaha the support of the various agencies of the state which are available and am willing to intervene in behalf of the city with any federal agency which might be needed to bring about a permanent solution of the situation," Morrison said.

"This problem cannot be solved by force and violence alone," he said.

"We are asking people to go to Viet Nam to protect the peace in Southeast Asia. The least we can do is to protect the peace at home," Morrison said. "The exercise of rights grows out of the exercise of responsibility. Without the exercise of responsibility, there will be no rights," the governor concluded.

Immediately after the conference, Morrison went to tour the strife area.

Earlier a Negro leader blamed the disorders on the same things he said caused the bloody Watts riots in Los Angeles — the frustration and despair of young Negroes.

"These kids have been taught for years that America does not care," said Douglas Stewart, executive director of the Urban League. "I think we do, but we are not doing a job of making them realize it."

Mayor A. V. Sorensen took a similar view and said he would meet with representatives of the young Negro element blamed for disturbances on Omaha's Near North Side over the July 4th weekend

Police Matter

For the time being, however, he said the situation was a police matter. Officers remained on emergency status and the National Guard groups on the alert.

Mayor Sorensen disclosed he had taken part in a shouting, boistrous meeting Monday night with 100 young Negroes at a North Side YMCA.

He said those who took part in the 1½ hour meeting were represented to him as having taken part in the disorders.

Immediately after the meeting, he said, violence flared for a third time in three hot, sultry holiday weekend nights. National Guardsmen joined helmeted police and highway patrolmen in restoring order

78 Arrests

Police reported 78 arrests and two policemen slightly injured.

As in two previous nights, young Negroes pitched bottles and rocks. There were broken store windows and looting. One disgusted store owner said he was closing shop for good. Another said he would brick up his store front and turn to wholesale business.

Reports Show Reds' Attitude

. . . LBJ SEES END OF WAR

Johnson City, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson said Tuesday that diplomatic reports indicate the communists "don't really expect a military victory in Viet Nam."

He said the United States looks forward to an end to the war and added, "We think we're on the way to doing it."

He added, however, that he is "aware of the danger of speculation."

The President reported that intensified bombing of North Viet Nam has hit 86% of that country's oil storage capacity and that 57% of the reserve supplies have been completely destroyed.

Top Secret Cable

Johnson read the figures, relayed to him in a top secret cable from the Pentagon, to newsmen who gathered on the front lawn of his ranch home near here for a news conference.

Johnson disclosed that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara plans to substantially reduce scheduled production rates for bombs and ammunition within the next three to six months.

The President read a report in which McNamara said ordnance stockpiles are ample and that production currently exceeds consumption.

Cutback Savings

The chief executive said the production cutback would save several hundred million dollars.

Coupled with the savings was the President's announcement that the budget deficit will be below the previous forecasts. Story Page 2.

The chief executive was asked if the projected reduction in ordnance buying indicated the major part of the Viet Nam military buildup was past.

"No," he responded. "I wouldn't make such an evaluation." He said more men will be sent overseas and other steps will be taken to add to American military muscle in South Viet Nam.

In discussing his decision to bomb oil storage facilities near Hanoi and Haiphong, Johnson said military officials and responsible diplomats felt that "this action at this time was required by conditions."

Saying that a national public opinion poll, not identified, indicated 85% support for his decision, Johnson said, "We did the right thing at the right time."

In what amounted to his most extensive statement on his bombing order, the chief executive said it made "no sense to sit with our hands tied behind us" while North Vietnamese communists continued to infiltrate into the south and spread terror and assassination.

The news conference — the first by Johnson to be broadcast live by the radio-television networks since last August — also produced talk about domestic politics.

He rattled off the results of recent polls to show that support for him was of "landslide" proportions—of the sort former President Dwight D. Eisenhower had in his presidential victories over Adlai Stevenson. Story Page 2.

Harriman Assigned

The President announced he is sending a group headed by roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman to Los Angeles to brief the governors' conference there on his Viet Nam policies. He said also he sent Lt. Gen. Andrew J. Goodpaster, assistant to the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, to brief former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

And he quickly read off statistics to make the point that "we are attacking basic problems in Viet Nam, such as illiteracy and disease."

"These are the problems that cause wars," Johnson declared, and described "the other war" in Viet Nam as one "as important as the military war."

He reviewed progress in distribution of land to landless peasants and refugees and improvements in food production.

Johnson said primary and secondary schoolrooms in South Viet Nam have been increased manyfold.

School Facilities

By 1968, he said, school facilities will be provided for 250,000 Vietnamese school children.

The President said more than 10,000 Vietnamese are receiving vocational training as well, and he said he thinks it is a good over-all record.

Questioned about alleged shortcomings of the draft system, Johnson said he considers it the best devised, in the light of experience.

86-Year-Old Doesn't Plan To Quit

By JIM STEVENSON
Star Staff Writer

"As long as a man is active and in good health and mind," says R. E. Dale of 3046 N, "he should keep on working."

"But that's not all," he added. "Generally speaking, the older fellow can usually do a better job than the youngsters."

He speaks with plenty of authority. The 86-year-old retired only recently from the Nebraska Historical Society where he served as librarian, a post he held for the past 14 years.

His multi-careered life included the back-breaking labor of pioneer farm life, teaching throughout the state, journalism, and the study of Nebraska history.

Real Love

It is in the latter that he found his real love, performing not only his regular duties as librarian, but also indexing and cataloging voluminous works, authoring a book, "The Pioneers of Otoe County," and writing newspaper columns for statewide distribution on Nebraska history and heritage.

The staff gave him a retirement party, presenting him with roses, candy, and the only plaque ever presented by the society.

It's as Dale says: "In dealing with Nebraska's pioneer history, you just can't get all your knowledge out of books.

"A woman called up the other day," he said, "and asked me what we had on the blizzard of 1888. Well, heck, I didn't even have to move from the telephone to tell her about it — I was a schoolboy out around Holdrege at the time and actually lived through it."

R. E. DALE

Dale was born in 1880 in Racine County, Wis. His father packed up his mother and six children and moved into the area around Holdrege, in 1884. He started out with a timber claim, Dale explained, which is similar to a homestead except that, instead of farming it, you were required to plant and grow a certain acreage of timber.

Converted to Homestead

"It didn't turn out, though," Dale said, "and he converted the land into a homestead. It took five years of residence before you could legally claim the land, so we lived there for quite a while before we could really say we owned the land."

Dale left home in 1898 to attend the University of Nebraska. He remembers with a smile the first part-time job he landed to help himself through school, that of potato-peeler in a shabby restaurant.

After attending the University for two years and running short of cash, Dale took a teaching examination, passed, and began teaching. Later he managed to go back to the University and pick up the two years he needed to graduate in 1906.

Turned To Farming

He was married the same year and, over the years, reared a family of six daughters and one son. He went back to teaching, but before long turned to farming.

After seven years at that, he went to work for a law firm in Lincoln, cataloging early statutes of the growing state, laying the groundwork for the work he would do at the historical society.

He drifted through several careers before going to work for Gold and Co. in 1946. There he was put in charge of the stockroom for the company's downtown department store.

In 1952 he went to work for the historical society, putting in 14 years of service and seeing the society grow from a staff of 15 to a group of about 50.

What's the old-timer plan to do now? Not quit entirely, that's for certain. "I plan to do a lot of resting and working on my stamp collection," Dale said. "But I'll continue writing newspaper columns for the society and other odds and ends of work. I won't be sitting around with nothing to do."

Copter Piloted By Lincolnite Down In Omaha

Omaha (AP) — A light helicopter piloted by Lt. Col. Robert Wittstruck of Lincoln lost power on takeoff late Tuesday night and crashed near the National Guard Armory at 6929 Mercy Road. Col Wittstruck and an unidentified passenger escaped injury.

The copter's large rotary blade and the small rear blade were damaged. The copter was one of three being used by the guard in Omaha.

Col. Wittstruck is commander of the National Guard 67th Support Battalion.

Mercury Tops 100 Degrees— Then Plunges

Temperatures in Lincoln topped the 100 degree mark Tuesday for the first time in nearly two years.

But a thunderstorm and change of wind brought speedy relief as temperatures dropped 20 degrees in an hour.

The mercury reached 103 before the quick drop.

The last previous date of a 100-plus reading was Aug. 2, 1964, when the temperature reached 107 degrees.

The record high for July 5 is 110 degrees, set in 1911.

Humboldt reported a state high of 108. Beatrice had a high of 105 and received .62 of an inch of rain.

4 Guard Units On Alert

Four National Guard companies were alerted Tuesday in connection with the disturbances in Omaha the past three nights.

Headquarters Company and Companies A, B and C of the 134th Infantry, 1st Battalion were ordered to report to their armories in full field gear.

According to Capt. Harold Youngren of Lincoln National Guard Headquarters, A, B and C Companies, stationed in Norfolk, Wayne, Columbus, and O'Neill, will probably be moved to an assembly point near Omaha.

By Tuesday afternoon most forces had been relieved. Prior to this time Nebraska City and Fremont units had been on stand-by alert. Also included in the alert were 867 Engineer Company-Omaha, 67th Support Battalion and elements of the state aviation unit.

Lincoln guardsmen had been called into the conflict Monday night. They were part of a platoon of military police and were used to assist in traffic control at the armory in Omaha, according to Youngren.

G&T To Reactivate Wheeling Rights Suit

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Cooperative will reactivate its dormant lawsuit seeking wheeling rights over the Nebraska Public Power System transmission grid.

The decision to reopen the 19-month-old lawsuit was revealed Tuesday by D. A. Blatchford of Columbus, general manager of the cooperative, which represents 24 rural electric districts.

Demise of the 1965 Legislature's power consolidation act in the State Supreme Court prompted reactivation of the suit, Blatchford said.

The 1965 consolidation act would have provided wheeling privileges for rural districts, and others, over the statewide grid system.

"If we don't have wheeling, we don't have anything," Blatchford explained.

"We are, in effect, captive customers of the Nebraska Public Power System."

NPPS does not permit rural districts to wheel power purchased from other sources over the NPPS grid system.

G & T members have announced their intention to purchase additional future power supply requirements beyond their current contractual commitments from sources other than NPPS.

But, they cannot bring such power into the state or deliver it to their customers without using the grid system.

The lawsuit was filed in Platte County District Court in December of 1964, but was left dormant pending legislative action on the consolidation act and court tests of the Legislature's enactment.

Named as defendant in the suit is NPPS, which is composed of Loup River Public Power District and Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District.

Already before the Platte District Court in another G&T lawsuit challenging the 1966-68 rate schedule adopted by NPPS.

In that suit, filed last December, G & T claims the rates assessed to rural districts by NPPS are discriminatory.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

BY SYLVANUS M. DUVALL, PH.D., AND EVELYN M. DUVALL, EDD.

1. No, it is true that our age emphasizes flexibility, but this is not always good, and for several reasons. Our attitudes are intermeshed so that, if we change one of them, we may have to change the whole system of related attitudes. This may or may not be good. In any case, attitudes like most other things are part of a total "package." We ought to know what this package is, and how it will be affected by changes.

2. Being married while still in college means hard work. True—False—

True. A 1965 study of married college students finds that two-thirds of the married men had jobs. Some of these boys were employed 40 hours a week or more. Many of their wives worked too while the man of the house finished his education. When children come there is often a real struggle, involving both of the parents' time, to meet the extra costs. Being married while still in school is no child's play for either the husband or the wife.

3. Are relationships based upon knowledge? Yes— No—

No. They are based upon guesses. You meet a person who acts in certain ways. Why? Does he want a job, or a date, or to "sell" me something? You don't know, but you try to figure it out on the basis of guesses. At the same time, he is trying to figure you out. What are you after? What are you really like? Would it be worthwhile knowing you, and for what reason? We will all get along better when such guesses can be replaced by more accurate and, if possible, by scientific knowledge.

Sukarno Loses Cabinet Authority, Legal Titles

. . . INDONESIAN CONGRESS BOOSTS SUHARTO

Jakarta, Indonesia (AP)—The Indonesian congress stripped President Sukarno of authority to name cabinet members Tuesday, possibly marking the final eclipse of the leftist leader. The army was alert to block any pro-Sukarno move.

The congress, the nation's highest legal authority, also took away Sukarno's titles of president for life and great leader of the revolution.

It granted broad new powers to the army strong man, Lt. Gen. Suharto, and declared Suharto would be acting president if Sukarno left the country or were unable to perform his duties. He is 65.

Figurehead

It was clear that Sukarno would be no more than a figurehead president — if the congressional decisions can be carried out by Suharto and the civilian-military regime now in control of this nation of 3,000 islands and 105 million people for several months.

Congressional action had been expected against Sukarno ruler of Indonesia since independence from the Netherlands was proclaimed in 1945. There was no announced reaction from him.

To forestall any move by Sukarno or his followers to upset the rulings, about 80,000 troops were moved into position around Jakarta Monday.

Other soldiers loyal to Suharto were moved to eastern and central Java, where "Bung" (brother) Karno grew up, where he still retains wide popularity and where violence is feared.

Work Together

Congress attempted to soften the blow against Sukarno by stating that he and Suharto should work together to form a new cabinet. That is the "spirit of the provision," it said.

But, in another swipe at the president, it set up a committee to review his teachings, which many delegates declared led to the rise of the Indonesia Communist Party.

The congress also ratified the results of the recent Bangkok talks between Indonesia and Malaysia to re-establish normal relations between the two countries.

Sukarno had launched a "crush Malaysia" campaign after the federation was formed three years ago. He contended it was nothing more than a British puppet and a threat to Indonesian security.

Sukarno's confrontation policy involved harassing attacks on the Malaysian Borneo states of Sarawak and Sabah and infiltration of guerrillas on the Malayan peninsula.

Campaign Blamed

The campaign never proved effective, and the Suharto group has blamed it in part for Indonesia's bankruptcy.

The major break in the foundations of Sukarno's power came last Oct. 1 when communists attempted a coup d'etat. Sukarno had become increasingly friendly with Red China and antagonistic to the West and had granted the Indonesian Communist Party, then third largest in the world, more and more latitude.

The attempted coup was crushed by the army, led by Defense Minister Abdul Haris Nasution and a violent anti-communist reaction swept the country. Thousands of communists and their sympathizers were slain.

In the following months, Sukarno and the military leaders jockeyed for power, but gradually Sukarno was forced to give the army a greater say in the government.

BEATLES DRUMMED OUT

The Beatles, shown smarting from an accompaniment of boos and jeers while leaving Manila, Tuesday were given an enthusiastic welcome in India. The singers were accused of failing to appear at the Filipino presidential palace. But several thousand Indian and foreign fans warmed up to the quartet in New Delhi, trampling airport security police.

Defense Concedes Klan Trio Upheld 'Ideology'

Athens, Ga. (UPI) — The defense in the trial of three Ku Klux Klansmen accused of intimidating Negroes conceded Tuesday that they may have done "some things we wouldn't approve of," but added their purpose could have been to uphold "Southern ideology."

The Klansmen — James Lackey, 30; Denver Willis Phillips, 26; and Herbert Guest, 39 — are the second trio to be tried in federal court here on the same charge. Testimony in their trial opened Tuesday afternoon.

The verdict in the trial of the first three Klansmen — Joseph Howard Sims, George Turner, and Cecil Myers — is being kept sealed by the court until the second trial is over because it might influence the all-male, all-white jury hearing this case.

Prosecutor Floyd Buford, who said he would rely on much the same evidence as he did in last week's trial, accused the Klansmen in his opening statement of plotting to "deprive Negroes of the right to enter the State of Georgia and deprive them from going out of the State of Georgia."

The official charge in the federal court case is that the Klansmen conspired to violate the civil rights of Negroes engaged in interstate commerce. The state charges that one incident in which some of the Klansmen were involved was the 1964 ambush slaying of Negro educator Lemuel Penn as he drove along a Georgia highway en route from an Army assignment at Fort Benning, Ga., to his home in Washington, D.C.

Defense attorney James Hudson, representing Phillips and Guest, denied every charge by the prosecution and said the defendants "probably don't know what interstate commerce is."

LBJ's Polls Give Him 'Landslide'

Johnson City, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson said Tuesday his rating in nationwide public opinion polls is about 55%—"and that was a landslide when General Eisenhower defeated Mr. Adlai Stevenson."

In a news conference at his ranch, the President turned this question about some recent unfavorable polls into a recitation of several favorable ones he had at hand.

Asked about his 1966 campaign plans, the President said he "expects to get around the country and talk to the people . . ."

But he said he has no announcements to make about his own future except that "I'm going to do my dead level best to serve all the people of my country."

U.S., Japan Argue Over Red Chinese

Kyoto, Japan (AP) — Japan and the United States disagreed Tuesday over Red China at the opening of the fifth annual meeting of Japanese and U.S. cabinet officers.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Red China was "continuing its hostility and intransigence toward the United States and the rest of the world."

But Foreign Minister Etsusaburo Shiina said that despite its hostile attacks on the Japanese government, Red China seemed pragmatic in its actions toward Japan. He declared Japan would continue to make contacts with Red China to help it break out of world isolation.

About 2,000 communists, socialists and extremist university students snake-danced through the streets of this ancient former capital of Japan, clashed with police and shouted insults at the American policy-makers.

They failed to muster the massed thousands they had predicted would pour out to underscore Japanese opposition to American bombing of North Viet Nam.

America's biggest and most important ally in Asia, Japan has sent neither troops nor munitions to Viet Nam and has extended little more than lukewarm moral support to the U.S. war effort.

Despite these hesitancies, the United States continues to court the Japanese not so much to persuade them to take a positive stand but to maintain one of aloof friendliness.

The reason for this is that Japan, hemmed in by a no-war constitution of America's own devising, is prohibited from sending military men overseas. Still touchy after 21 years over war in any form, the Japanese want no involvement in a quarrel they regard as alien to them and difficult to justify on either moral grounds or those of national interest.

Air-Sea Fight Marks War

Saigon (AP)—Another air-sea fight marked the American campaign against North Viet Nam Tuesday. For the second time in five days, U.S. Navy planes exchanged fire with communist torpedo boats. One plane was shot down. It was undetermined whether the boats were hit.

On the political front Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military government installed an 80-member army and people's advisory council, including a number of skilled technicians, to help in the progressive transition of power to an elected civilian regime next year.

From a Paris weekly magazine, Enterprise, came a report that President Ho Chi Minh of North Viet Nam has warned Red China and the Soviet Union that, "if there is no new development, we will have to come to terms (with the United States) toward the middle of 1967." The magazine cited no authority for its information.

No Information

A U.S. State Department spokesman, Press Officer Marshall Wright, said in Washington he had no information concerning the magazine's report that Ho had been talking with Moscow and Peking about a negotiated settlement.

At the same time Red China's foreign minister, Chen Yi, declared in a statement broadcast from Peking that his government will support North Viet Nam at all costs and "will not hesitate to risk any danger to annihilate U.S. aggression and win final victory." He spoke at a reception marking the fourth anniversary of Algeria's independance from France.

U.S. Air Force and Navy squadrons, which flew 91 multiplane missions Monday, kept up their blows north of the border. Two fuel storage areas—19 miles southeast of Haiphong and 25 miles west of Thanh Hoa—were singled out in Fourth of July raids pursuing the drive to cut off oil for North Viet Nam's war machine.

Scattered Clashes

Ground operations in the south, marked by four Viet Cong attacks over the weekend on isolated, U.S.-advised Special Forces garrisons, subsided into small and scattered clashes.

U.S. and Vietnamese pilots flying in support of allied troops, however, were reported to have killed possibly 130 Viet Cong in 568 sorties Monday. A sortie is a single combat flight by a single plane.

Two Navy A4 Skyhawk fighter-bombers from the carrier Constellation and two North Vietnamese torpedo boats were the antagonists in the latest air-sea fight. They shot it out in the early morning darkness

1966 Budget Deficit Under Early Figure

Johnson City, Texas (AP) — President Johnson reported Tuesday that the federal budget deficit for fiscal 1966—the government year ended five days ago—was far below the $6.4 billion forecast in January.

Johnson told a news conference at his Texas ranch that it was too early to provide exact figures on the status of federal finances on June 30, but that he could say:

First, that fiscal 1966 was the third year in a row in which the red ink spending was below the President's forecast.

Second, that the reduction in the predicted deficit was greater than the comparable reduction last year, which he said was $1.5 billion.

Third, the deficit was "substantially below" the $5.3 billion of fiscal 1965.

The President said the budget results demonstrated his administration's success in its major fiscal objectives.

These, he said, included an attempt to make realistic estimates both of government income and expenditures; to maintain unremitting effort to Keep outlays "at or below the initial estimates," resulting this year in domestic outlays several hundred million dollars below expectations, and to maintain the strength and health of the economy so that revenues each year will exceed the official forecast.

The President's budget message in January called for outlays of $106.4 billion in fiscal 1966, revenues of $100 billion, and a deficit of $6.4 billion.

The booming economy, coupled with a speedup in tax collections resulting from the March tax law revision, has produced substantially greater revenues than were anticipated.

Confident Jim Hoffa Jeers Foes

Miami Beach, Fla. (AP) — "The hell with our enemies." Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa shouted Tuesday in a war cry before some 2,000 cheering union delegates.

The twice-convicted Hoffa predicted he would thwart those in government and in the nation's press who he said want to see him jailed or otherwise removed from office.

"I happen to be quite healthy and I happen to have good lawyers and I happen to still believe that justice in the United States is still honest," Hoffa said.

Preparing for certain reelection despite pending prison sentences totaling 13 years for alleged jury tampering and mail fraud, Hoffa asked the delegates to disregard what he called "the slander . . . mud . . . filthy lies . . . and garbage" aimed at him.

The delegates gave Hoffa a unanimous, standing, whistling, cheering vote of confidence as Hoffa said:

"Let that be an answer to our enemies and those stupid individuals who think they can divide us with their filthy propaganda."

Wheat Yields Running Better Than Expected

. . . Crop Observers Report

By Associated Prses

Nebraska wheat yields "are running much higher than anticipated," government crop observers reported Tuesday.

The harvest was nearly 20% completed by last weekend, and the rate is considerably ahead of the harvest pace in recent years, according to the weekly crop report of the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics.

As of June 1, the U.S. Department of Agriculture foresaw a 66.6 million bushel wheat crop in Nebraska this year.

The figure was based on an estimated average yield of 22 bushels per acre, compared with a 27-bushel yield envisioned a month earlier.

Rains Changed Picture

Rains which broke the drought in June improved the picture.

New official yield estimates based on July 1 conditions are expected next week.

Approximately 20% of the wheat had been harvested as of last weekend in southwest Nebraska, while in the south central area, nearly 50% had been cut, according to Tuesday's crop report.

Harvest is expected to start in the lower Panhandle counties this week.

Last week's hot and dry weather spurred machine operations and new wheat varieties are maturing earlier than some of the older varieties, the division explained.

Weather also has been favorable for maturing oats, barley and rye.

Rye Looks Good

Rye yields are expected to be real good in northeast counties, and vetch seed production looks favorable in many of the rye fields, the division said.

Other crop report observations:

A considerable acreage of corn has been laid by, but cultivation continues on some late fields along with fertilization and cultivation of sorghum fields.

Soybeans have made good progress under favorable weather conditions.

Local areas in the southeast are becoming critically dry.

Harvest of the second cutting of alfalfa hay is getting under way with slightly better yields than were obtained from the first cutting.

Pasture and range feed continues plentiful in most areas but rain will be needed as high temperatures are causing a rapid loss of moisture.

Hot weather has slowed the gain rate for feed lot animals and slowed the rate of milk and egg production.

Moisture received throughout Nebraska during the week ending Monday included:

East
Grand Island .02 Omaha .52
Lincoln 2.73
Central
North Platte .06
West
Chadron .05 Scottsbluff .47
Imperial 1.12 Sidney .25

Precipitation via sections since the beginning of the growing season, April 1, as compared to longtime averages follows:

Northwest—5.22 inches (1966; 7.82 inches (normal).
North Central—6.64;9.02.
Northeast—8.00; 10.29.
Central—6.91; 9.89.
East Central—7.76; 10.73.
Southwest—4.92; 8.27.
South Central—7.02; 9.79.
Southeast—5.87; 11.66.

Sidney Area Reports Are Encouraging

Sidney (AP)—The wheat harvest got under way in the Nebraska Panhandle the July 4th weekend and first returns from the fields were most encouraging.

Chappell reported 130 truck loads of wheat on Monday indicating yields of 30 to 35 bushels per acre. The wheat tested 60 pounds per bushel and had a low moisture content, due in part to the hot drying weather of recent days ranging up to 98 degrees for two successive days.

50 Bushel Crop

Lodgepole in eastern Cheyenne County reported two loads of very good wheat, indicating an average of 50 bushels per acre if hail does not knock it down.

At Colton between Lodgepole and Sidney wheat from the south area between Colton and the Colorado line yielded 35 bushels per acre and tested 65 pounds per bushel.

At Dalton in the north end of Cheyenne County, wheat from the light soil of the hills was yielding about average.

Paxton Hotel Use Planned By Job Corps

Omaha (AP)—Robert W. Anderson director of the Women's Job Corps Center in Omaha, announced Tuesday that the Paxton Hotel will become part of the center.

Anderson said the Burroughs Corporation has received a 10-month contract of $2,110,977 to house and train 465 enrollees. This gives the center a capacity of 800 girls. The Regis Hotel Center opened a year ago last week. It has a 335-girl capacity.

Anderson said the contract is not for a year because the federal Office of Economic Opportunity ran short of money. Both the Paxton and the $4,247,000 Regis contracts will expire next May 10 and be renegotiated together. He said the Paxton is being leased from the Gal-Tex Corporation, Galveston, Tex., for a "gross lease hire" of $157,000 a year for three years.

Anderson said the expanded center also plans to provide training for about 100 Omaha girls, who will receive training in the center during the day and return home each night.

Omaha Reached '66 Power Peak Prior To Storm

Omaha (AP) — Tuesday afternoon's unpredicted thunderstorm in Omaha hit just as the Omaha Public Power District was experiencing its peak power demand of the season—623,700 kilowatts.

This demand occurred between 1 and 2 p.m. Came the rains and the demand promptly dropped 46,000 kilowatts. This was just a little below the peak demand of 558,600 experienced in 1965.

The storm knocked out a number of individual power services across the city, most of them victims of falling tree limbs, but there were no large areas without power.

Glenn Cramer Dies; 5-Term State Solon

Albion (AP)—Glenn Cramer, 82, former civic leader, publisher and five-term state legislator, died Tuesday after several years of failing health.

Mr. Cramer

Sen. Cramer was widely known for his three terms as chairman of the Unicameral's Education Committee and as the author of a bill which simplified voting on constitutional amendments.

Advances in teacher certification and school consolidation were made during his terms on the committee. Before passage of his bill on constitutional amendments, voters needed to vote "no" to favor changing a constitutional provision because of the wording on the ballot.

Sen. Cramer purchased the Albion News in 1919 and published it until it was sold in 1946. He served in the Legislature from 1946 to 1955.

He is survived by his wife, Alice.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Friday in the First Methodist Church at Albion with burial in Rosehill Cemetery here.

State Chalks Up Safest 4th Holiday In 6 Years

By United Press International

Nebraska has celebrated its safest Fourth of July holiday in six years, state safety coordinator Tom Ryan reported Tuesday.

Ryan said only two lives were lost on the state's highways during the deadly three-day period, which set a new national slaughter count of 577. Last year, Ryan said, 10 persons were killed on Nebraska roads.

Compared with its neighbors, Ryan said, Nebraska ranked close to the top in the least number of recorded motoring deaths. Only Wyoming, which registered a single fatality, made a better showing.

Ryan said Iowa counted six deaths, Kansas, 10, Missouri, 10, and Colorado five.

He said the coordinated efforts of state, city and community officials, with help from the news media, made possible the safest Independence Day weekend in the past half dozen years.

Ryan said he "congratulates Nebraska motorists for a job well done, proving that with the proper attitude and motivation accidents can be prevented."

Yearly Rate Up

Of the year, however, Ryan said the state auto accident death rate is up 19%, serious injuries are climbing at a 3% rate and nominal injuries are 5% more frequent than a year ago.

This comes, however, Ryan said, in view of the fact that motoring miles have increased 10% from a year ago.

The safest place to drive, Ryan said, is on the Interstate. He said accidents there have been reduced 25%, despite mileage increases of 15%.

This past June, he said, was the safest June the state has had in three years. He said 29 were killed, while a year ago 36 were slaughtered during the month on Nebraska highways.

Luck Of Newspapering

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

A good friend called yesterday morning and asked if she were talking to the fellow who made a hole in one over the weekend. Indeed she was and she asked if an article would not be written about it. After all, she said, a golfer who made a hole in one should surely write about it if he has the opportunity. That is one good thing about newspapering — when something happens you can write about it.

There are times, of course, when this is a burden because you have to write whether things are happening or not. When they are, it is fine but when they are not, the situation can get rather desperate. A hole in one may be something happening or not, depending upon the way you look at it. It is unusual because there are many golfers who go a lifetime and never achieve the feat. Many, in fact, never even witness a hole in one. When this particular hole in one was made, a threesome was waiting on the green involved. But two of the group were getting a drink and failed to see the development.

Rare Even To View

They expressed disgust that a hole in one should be made right in front of them and they not see it. The fellow who made the hole in one is a natural skeptic. He saw the ball head for the green, watched it bounce on the edge of the green, roll toward the hole and then disappear.

But he thought that the ball had merely rolled behind the pin where it remained hidden from view. If he were lucky, the ball would not be too far behind the pin and perhaps end up a "gimme." But those observing things at the side of the tee immediately shouted that it went in. The fellow standing on the green 188 yards away waved his arms frantically.

It did, indeed, seem to all of those that a hole in one had been made. The fellow making it, however, was still skeptical. Coming up to the green, three balls could be seen, one for each of those players now putting out. It was always possible, however, that the ball now in great question was picked up and marked by one of the group ahead so they could complete their putting. Then, the threesome announced that the ball in question was still in the hole — they hadn't taken it out. Sure enough, a quick look in the hole and there was the ball. From that point on, the day had to be a perfect one. One good thing — when you make a hole in one, nobody asks you what your total score was.

That evening, what was supposed to be a birthday celebration for the wife turned into a multiple celebration. The wife not being a golfer, she inquired if the feat were not just a stroke of luck. Naturally, her husband assured her that it was strictly a matter of skill. She, of course, wanted to know her husband's total score. She then compared that total score with the scores of such people as Palmer and Casper. She noted that they never seem to make a hole in one and wondered again if the event did not involve any luck. The husband was beginning to see where he got his skepticism —from all these years of married life. He did admit that things had to go pretty right to make a hole in one and that the odds against it must be pretty big, but the thought of skill was still much more appealing.

A hole in one does produce considerable argument. Does the fellow making the hole in one buy the refreshments at the end of the round or is he treated, regardless of who won or lost? Well, what might be right or wrong doesn't count because the fellow with the hole in one is outnumbered. Naturally, he buys. He does his best to make his friends feel like cheapskates but they are pretty hardened to such things by this time in the season.

One piece of luck in the event was the timing. A hole in one made on your day off has no complications but think of the poor devil who makes a hole in one on some afternoon during the week when he has taken half a day off from the job. Imagine having a hole in one you couldn't talk about.

There are other things about a hole in one that would classify it as something important happening. For instance, there is the matter of tenacity. The event proves that if you only stick with something long enough, you are bound to achieve something. And what about your ability. Have you ever thought that your mediocrity doomed you to just average achievement? Well, this hole in one proves that you can go along at an average or worse pace and all of a sudden come up with something big, something that leaps way out in front. It is a little like the lineman in football who recovers a fumble that still hasn't touched the ground and races in for a score.

Staying With It

Rather, he lumbers in for the score but however he does it, he has had his moment of glory. And that moment can make up for many hours of labor with few rewards. It is the same way in just about everything we do — we seldom score as high as we aim but when we do, it makes the past effort worthwhile.

Might Found In Right

To turn an old phrase around, might is found in right. It is in the truth, in the appeal of common justice, that social inequities are finally to be corrected but that theme now and then is overlooked.

It is overlooked, for instance, when unrest such as is seen in Omaha breaks out into violence, the endangering of lives and the destruction of property. Whatever are the causes of the civil disorders that have taken place over the weekend in Omaha's north side, they can serve no productive purpose.

The same thing applies to the endorsement of "black power" by the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), Negro civil rights group. The group in adopting this attitude assumes the very same kind of tactics that it seeks to end.

"Black power" carries with it a connotation of race supremacy, only reversed from that which prevails today. Rather than discrimination against the Negro, it infers discrimination against the whites.

Obviously, this is an approach that will win its advocates few friends. With CORE, it will tend to allenate it from the support that such minority groups have had among all people in their pursuit of equal rights for all.

It is a substantial distortion and a peculiar contradiction to seek the elimination of one injustice through the application of another. "Black power" will never win the day for equality, nor will violence effectively serve the cause of civil rights.

No Medicare Rush

The rush of elderly patients to hospitals as a result of Medicare has not developed in the first few days of this new program. Whether it would or not was a widely debated matter before the program became effective last Friday.

These few days, of course, are but a short test of the program and the impact of Medicare could still develop to substantial proportions. It is hoped, however, these first few days are but a preview of the program in the years ahead.

Undoubtedly, one of the things that will contribute to stability under Medicare is the deductible feature of the program. Recipients of the program pay the first $40 of hospital costs themselves plus $10 after 60 days and the total amount after 90 days.

Thus, Medicare is a help, not an assumption of total responsibility. Changes in the program can be expected but this feature of the plan should certainly not be changed until we have had substantial experience with provisions as they now exist.

One change or improvement that might be considered is the qualification criteria for hospitals. Several Nebraska small town hospitals have failed to qualify because of what look like meaningless technicalities.

The welfare section of Medicare, too, promises its share of problems in the months imediately ahead, falling victim to extravagant plans among some of the states. There will be other failures and some notable successes but it is hoped that from all concerned, the program can be given a fair test.

BOB CONSIDINE

Grim Outlook For Graduates

New York—One of the more vigorous commencement addresses of the late and lamentable season of campus speechmaking was turned in by Frank Mankiewicz, press assistant to Sen. Robert Kennedy and former Latin American region director of the Peace Corps.

Speaking to a class of 3,300 graduates of California State College at Los Angeles, Mr. Mankiewicz declared:

"I do not think it likely that you will be the leaders of the future." The reason for his dour view, he hastened to add, was that in his opinion the U.S. may be losing its leadership role in the world because of its "sterile, counter-revolutionary position, a feeling that our good guys in well-cut suits will always prevail over the unshaven poor administrators in the dirty pants." He added that the U.S. is showing "an extraordinary willingness to assign extreme and irrelevant political labels to those who want fundamental change.

"If you call a man a 'communist' often enough and loud enough, he will become one," he said, in dwelling upon the "ludicrous nature of our stance toward the world."

The aide of the junior senator from New York, who was on his South African trip at the time, urged campus beatniks to take heart:

"If that slice of campus society which takes ideas seriously and is willing to conduct its politics in the streets of our nation and the world, can strengthen and grow, then there is a chance—a narrow chance but one worth trying—that the ancient revolutionary ideas that are the basis of our society can once again inspire and light the world."

One of the reasons why it is going to cost more than a billion dollars to produce the first supersonic transport, by the time all the tabs are picked up, is a little matter of wind. It costs $750 a whoomp to shoot wind through the supersonic wind tunnel at Lockheed's Rye Canyon (Calif.) labs. The whoomp lasts 30 seconds, and flows over small models at 3,000 mph. Then it takes half an hour to pump up the wind tanks to 600 pounds per square inch for the next whoomp.

Congressional Vote On Auto Safety Bill

WASHINGTON — If you were in an auto accident this July 4 weekend and you were injured as a result of a bad brake, a weak steering system or otherwise faulty car, you will be interested in knowing who voted for criminal penalties in the Senate Auto Safety Bill.

This provision of the bill, which was defeated, did not hold auto manufacturers responsible for accidental errors, only if they willfully and knowingly undercut the safety standards set by the secretary of commerce.

The senators who made speeches against criminal penalties were Robert Griffin, Republican, and Phil Hart, Democrat, both of Michigan; John Pastore, Rhode Island Democrat, fiery champion of the auto industry; Frank Lausche, the Ohio Republican; and Thruston Morton of Kentucky, former chairman of the Republican National Committee.

All Republicans joined them. Fourteen Democrats voted for tough provisions to enforce auto safety. They were:

Dan Brewster, Md.; Frank Church, Idaho; Tom Dodd and Abe Ribicoff, Conn.; Ernest Gruening, Alaska; Vance Hartke, Ind.; Russell Long, La.; Warren Magnuson, Wash.; Gene McCarthy, Minn.; Lee Metcalf, Mont.; Wayne Morse and Maurine Neuberger, both of Oregon; Ralph Yarborough, Tex., and Steve Young, Ohio.

Motorists over the Fourth of July weekend can thank them for at least putting up a battle.

Most interesting primary race in the nation takes place in northern Virginia next week, but it affects other voters all the way from Maine to southern California.

The race is between Rep. Howard Smith, the 83-year-old chairman of the Rules Committee, and George C. Rawlings, a vigorous young Virginia legislator who is challenging him.

Reason this particular election affects the entire nation is not because Smith has been in Congress 36 years but because he is chairman of the Rules Committee where in the past he has been able to delay, block, and sabotage such important bills as the Housing Act, the Wagner Labor Relations Act, Civil Rights, Aid to Education, Slum Clearance, Medicare, and scores of other bills affecting the lives of several million people.

While Smith's power to block bills has been modified of late, there is a danger that the next House of Representatives, shorn of the top-heavy Johnson majority, may put Judge Smith back on the House throne.

Governors Avoiding The Viet Nam Issue

LOS ANGELES — Nonviolence suggests itself as the theme of this Governors' Conference. Only Dr. Martin Luther King is missing. Republicans are playing it safe and saying me-too on Viet Nam policy and main outlines of the Great Society, exactly as their Democratic counterparts do.

A few Republicans are making a stab at complaining about current political trends but these avoid the main show and deal with highly general or well worn issues as federal-state relations and inflation. There is so far no real display of Republican conviction that the Johnson administration is bad for the country.

The President is not bothering to ask the governors for their views and Repuolicans and Democrats alike are showing an almost indecent eagerness to put the Viet Nam baby in the President's lap, certify to its legitimate American parentage and avoid responsibility for any dialogue about it. The reasons are abvious.

☆ ☆ ☆

The old adage that nobody shoots Santa Claus applies. Americans are at work for good wages and the chance that they will turn against the people in power in Washington is slim. They complain of Viet Nam but here is no evidence yet that they will risk any economic advantage they enjoy.

A few governors here are uneasily conscious that they are shirking the war issue with all it implies but they will all be happy if no meanie among them tries to push a Viet Nam resolution. They simply can't find politically safe ground.

If they endorse the President's policy in full, many will be committing themselves to some things they can't stomach. If they don't, they are liable to the charge that they are letting down the boys who are fighting in that dirty conflict.

Republicans will meet to discuss a resolution which could put at least one toe in partisan waters. But they have no heart for it. There is something to be said for them. They are heavily outnumbered, they have no power to enforce any of their conclusions, they do not know what direction their party will be taking in the future.

They are hanging on, hoping to be re-elected and find in the November election some sign that the voters are tired of Texas. But they seem totally unwilling to come down on one side or the other in the classic pattern of American elections.

☆ ☆ ☆

The imbalance of the two major parties is only being shown once again. That 1952 Governor's Conference in Houston where 30-plus aggressive Republicans put over the nomination of General Eisenhower for president against the conservative idol, Senator Robert Taft, seems pre-historic.

Democratic governors feel they can do nothing to influence the President and few will even discuss trying to do so. Their most embarrassing moments come when they are asked if they want the President to campaign for them. Some answer quietly, others with bravado, few with enthusiasm. They are on the whole sure that their party will see them through this time.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Contrast Of Watts, Century City

LOS ANGELES — As 50 governors offer their wares, this meeting of the Governors' Conference in a congressional election year was bound to boil over with political speculation. And attention was sure to center on one of their number — George Romney of Michigan —on whom the Republican lightning in 1968 may strike.

For the Republicans the choice of Los Angeles as the setting was not altogether a happy one. The stunning victory of the actor, Ronald Reagan, in the primary for governor underscores not only the continuing hold of Goldwaterism but the divisions within the party.

The host at the conference, California's Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, running scared for re-election to a third term is already making overtures to former Mayor of San Francisco George Christipher whom Reagan overwhelmed. Brown made a personal call on Christopher to deny that he had inspired an attack based on revival of a 28-year-old charge that Christopher had violated milk price control laws in running the dairy he still operates.

The governor is bidding for Republican moderates and liberals unable to vote for a candidate who was one of Barry Goldwater's principal supporters in 1964 and whose views aired in the recent campaign are Goldwaterism refined by the shrewd public relations team that masterminded his campaign.

☆ ☆ ☆

While California Republicans spurned a moderate for a conservative, three Western Republican governors speak for the other wing of the party. They are Mark Hatfield of Oregon, running for a Senate seat with a good chance to win, Daniel J. Evans of Washington and Robert E. Smylie of Idaho who in the past has taken the lead in trying to reshape his party in a more moderate image. Evans, who purged the extreme right-wingers, is rated a conspicuous hope for the future. Along with Romney, theirs is the prevailing Republican voice at the conference.

As a setting for the conference, the new Century Plaza Hotel is a pleasure dome of unparalleled luxury. With seven restaurants, a ballroom seating 2,400 diners, fountains, swimming pool, an 18-hole golf course, each room with color television, the Century Plaza bills itself as "The World's Most Beautiful Hotel." Designed by Architect Minoru Yamasaki, the 800-room hotel is a graceful arc with each room having an outside view.

For the big-city governors, each struggling with the ever more urgent threat of mushrooming urbanism and the attendant problems of crime, deteriorating slums, rising costs for basic services that fall short of needs, Los Angeles is an object lesson in the dramatic contrast of affluence and poverty. The cost of the Century Plaza was $32,000,000. It is only one unit in Century City, a complex being built by the Aluminum Company of America which has already put $43,000,000 into the land, formerly 20th century Fox's back lot, and $160,000,000 into the hotel, a shopping center, two 13-story office buildings and two apartment towers billed with characteristic California modesty as "Your prestige Address in America's Modern Acropolis." At least $300,000,000 more will go into apartments, row houses and a cultural center across from the Century Plaza in this city within a city.

Fifteen miles away, not far from downtown Los Angeles, is the Negro Ghetto of Watts. An explosion of violence last August cost 34 lives and property valued at $40,000,000. A study just issued by the California Department of Labor says economic conditions in Watts are even worse than before last year's riots. High unemployment, low income for those who do work, substandard housing — all have worsened in the year since the rebellion. The purchasing power of Negro families dropped $400 a year between 1960 and 1965 although in the same period the income of white families rose markedly.

For the governors concerned with whether federal money will be available to rebuild the cities and whether a federal tax increase is certain to come next year with the rising cost of the Viet Nam war, Watts and Century City are human documents. They illustrate with dramatic emphasis where the surplus in the booming American economy goes. While the poverty program brings some benefits to Watts, they are scarcely measurable in relation to the urgent needs.

☆ ☆ ☆

Critical economists such as Leon Keyserling, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers in the Truman administration, have long argued for higher taxes to channel part of the surplus into public needs rather than into the affluent private sector. For the governors, this is more than an academic question, since they are almost without exception up against the gun of mounting debt and the search for new tax revenues as demands for expanding education and other services press harder.

Beset as the governors are by every kind of pressure, one can hardly begrudge them their hour in the Century City sun. They can enjoy the illusion of affluence while the conference lasts.

Campus Police

Lincoln, Neb.

Why is it that the university police receive such small payment for the duties they perform? They receive about the same pay as a meter maid and much less than a city policewoman, but they carry guns and are subject to all kinds of danger, reprisals, criticism, etc., and at the same time must be a bureau of information, answering all questions about the university, city of Lincoln and state of Nebraska, besides being adviser, lawyer, judge and jury at a moment's notice.

The university police work in all kinds of weather at various functions in addition to their regular activities, yet receive less pay than the help at the local high school functions.

Some campus police never have an evening with their families as they have to work two or more jobs or their wives must work to supplement the family income.

If the chancellor received the same amount of pay as the campus police, could he afford to send his children to college? Doesn't he think that the top pay for campus police should be at least as much or more than the starting salaries the city of Lincoln pays their beat men?

In the past five years, the population or enrollment of the university has nearly doubled. But the salaries paid to the campus police have certainly not doubled!

Popularity Poll

Lincoln, Neb.

I must take issue with your editorial of June 30. Nebraska, it is true, went for President Johnson in 1964, but even you cannot seriously think it would do so again if the election were being held this year. Gentlemen, open your ears to the sound of discontent. The Democrats say they are running in Nebraska without help from the national adminis-tration — then flock to Omaha to meet the President and be drawn closer to the bosom of the tall man from Texas. Which of their stories is true?

Tiemann, far and away the front-runner in the race for governor, doesn't need the administration as an issue, but you can't blame him for being awfully glad he doesn't have to run with the blessing of the national administration, because Nebraska is not the only state where that is a most unenviable position in 1966.

Now, The Star normally supports the Democratic party — which is all well and good and in the tradition of the American free press, but you gentlemen will have to come up with something better than statistics about the President's popularity two years ago, because he just isn't popular like that any more. Don't take my word for it—check the latest Lou Harris polls.

Liquor Problem

Lincoln, Neb.

It would seem from the news items, editorials and council proceedings that liquor is Lincoln's No. 1 problem today. None of these problems would have developed had the liquor joints been left downtown on skid row where they belong.

The disgusting article in which the Liquor Commission tried to justify their acts of downgrading and desecrating our residential areas by locating these taverns against the wishes of the tax-paying citizens of the area really stirred my righteous indignation. The council was not arbitrary and capricious but rather was representing the wishes of the citizens who pay high taxes for the privilege of living away from skid row. If we are going to live on skid row, then our taxes should be assessed according to skid row scales.

We also predicted when the bottle club law was being drafted in the Legislature that highway deaths in Nebraska would increase, and this is now a proven fact. This is "drinking and driving" without question. Now they are asking for "drunken flying" with a license at the airport. The statement that the restaurant there was "deteriorating" without a liquor license was so ridiculous that it was comical. Most places in Lincoln have "deteriorated" because they have liquor licenses.

Voting Record

Lincoln, Neb.

Polly Berry, writing in The Star of June 29, should really look up the voting record of Hruska and Curtis and she will find them on the side of big greed and not voting for the good of our great nation. That is bad and not good. Neither one is on the constructive side. I have taken the Congressional Record for many years and it shows them up bad.

Nebraska voters would do well to elect Mr. Morrison to the United States Senate.

School Library Book Policy Written

By LUCILLE HUTCHINSON
Star Staff Writer

Library books chosen for the Lincoln Public Schools should "support the socially acceptable ideals, values and beiefs of the American society," according to qualifications listed in the recently released school library materials selection policy.

The School Board-approved policy for selection of library materials also states that "there shall be the fullest practical provision of material presenting all points of view concerning the problems and issues of our times—international, national and local."

Books or other reading matter "of sound factual authority" shall not be proscribed or removed from library shelves because of partisan or doctrinal approval, it was emphasized.

The selection policy, approved as a part of an application for Elementary and Secondary Education Act Title II library funds, will be implemented exclusively with this year's acquisition requests and materials purchased with Title II funds, library coordinator Bill Robertson reported.

As far as present collections are concerned, it was intended that the policy be adhered to as much as possible in the procedure of librarians assessing the school library books in preparation for Title II purchases.

The policy, which includes a form for citizens to make written requests for reconsideration of a book, was encouraged by the school board after considerable controversy arose in the district about Harper Lee's "To Kill a Mockingbird" used in junior high English courses. The Title II application required a policy statement.

Sex and profanity policies specify that materials "presenting accents on sex should be subjected to a stern test of literary merit and reality by those who select library materials," adding that "the fact of sexual incidents or profanity appearing should not automatically disqualify a book."

"Factual material on the level of the reader should be included in the library collection," the seection statement said.

Ideologies, another topic of criticism, should be presented "without making any effort to sway reader judgment," it was pointed out. On the level of the reading public, ideologies or philosophies "which exert a strong force, either favorably or unfavorably in government, current events, politics, education or any other phase of life should be included."

Religion Included

The Bible and historical matter relating to religion "may be included" in the library, while materials which expound sectarian beliefs "should not be included," according to the school district.

"Factual, unbiased material which represents major religions should be included in the library collection where budget, distribution and adequacy of collection permit. Publications . . . from religious bodies may be included if for general news value" or when indexed in the 'Reader's Guide' or 'Education Index.'"

Library book selection "must be made with due regard to the student's maturity level," the policy declared.

A citizen complaining about a specific book used in school or on the library shelves must tell whom he represents, his objections and proposals for further use of the book.

Robertson, explaining that the complaint form was standard for library association members, emphasized, however, that Lincoln's biggest problem is not in combatting questionable material, for example on moral or religious grounds, but to "avoid mediocracy in books."

Optimistic

Too often, he deplored, the tendency is to keep from departing too far from what other school systems consider good books rather than choosing volumes individually by the district's own analysis team.

With increased library personnel on the elementary level, Robertson was optimistic that the selection policy would be fully in force the next school year and carefully followed as the schools' collections grow.

Peterson Still Thinks Road Study Late

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

City Councilman Ervin Peterson said Tuesday he still feels that the Lincoln Metropolitan Area Transportation Study was completed late.

The $150,000 study and major street program recommendations were revealed last week. At that time consultant Herbert Johnson of Burgwin & Martin, the Kansas City firm that engineered the study, told a group of civic leaders that "the criticism that has been eating on some of you is completely unjustified."

He referred to comments made by various city officials over the past year asking that work on the study be hastened. Several key city projects, such as a one-way street system for the downtown area, were deferred pending completion of the study.

'I Disagree'

After discussing the study during the council's weekly meeting, Peterson said, "It was a year late, and that's all there is to it. I disagree with the consultant and no one is going to shame me out of it."

The council is expected to review the traffic study in terms of possibly updating the city's comprehensive plan and six-year capital improvements program, but no change in street construction priorities is foreseen for the next fiscal year.

The study was mainly necessary for the city to qualify for federal street and highway funds.

Lee Blocker, acting director of public utilities, told the council that water consumption in Lincoln the past five days has been "fairly average," in spite of the high temperatures.

He noted a 43-million gallon peak day for the period on Monday, and said that the city has had several 55-million days already this year.

Everyone Gone?

Blocker said he couldn't explain the relatively low usage, commenting, "I don't know whether it was because everyone went out of town or quit using water."

In other action, the council approved special permits for Dot, Inc., and King Dollar Inc., to construct parking lots on the west side of 26th, near W, and a special permit for R. G. Hall to build a parking lot on the south side of P, between 24th and 25th.

Townsend Plan Members Seek To Update Group

Updating of its corporate organization is the goal of Townsend Plan, Inc., members during their three-day conference here.

According to John Doyle Elliott, vice president and secretary-treasurer of the national organization, the Townsend Plan has fallen behind social changes. He said that Social Security needs basic revisions.

The Townsend Plan seeks to allow full participation for the elderly in the benefits of the American economy, he said.

The organization is supporting legislation in the House by Rep. John J. McFall.

The bill would premit retirement by all persons on full benefits at age 60 without reference to previous earnings; provide $225 to $250 a month to all retired persons over 60; permit earnings by retirees on a more liberal scale than under the present Social Security Law, and provide disability payments to those under 60.

The plan would be financed by a federal tax on the gross income of all persons and businesses — possibly 2%.

School Board To Take Look At Its Budget

Lincoln's Board of Education will take its first official look at a preliminary budget for the 1966-67 school year when it is presented at 8:30 a.m. Thursday in the Public School Administration Building.

The final budget has to be accepted by Aug. 1, according to Vice Supt. Arzell Ball.

The school board also is slated to consider a proposal for more federal funds under the Economic Opportunity Act to finance an extension of the Neighborhood Youth Corps operation, employing high school age students from low-income families.

Other items on the agenda for the meeting are types of school lunch programs, an aviation committee appointment, easement for a sanitary sewer, permission to sell uniforms and other routine business.

State Banks To Impose Small Hikes

. . . IN INTEREST

State Banking Director Byron Dunn said Tuesday Nebraska banks will impose only "nominal" interest rate increases for loans in the near future, despite a national trend toward major loan rate hikes.

"Nebraska bank rates have remained relatively stable in the past, and we're not subject to the national fluctuations," he said.

Nationally, interest rates on bank loans have jumped because "the big banks have over-loaned and have been caught in a bind, particularly on commercial loans," Dunn said.

"As a whole, Nebraska banks are not too tight with loans because they deal primarily with farm loans, not commercial loans, and many of them do not aggressively seek time money business."

He said major banks in Omaha and Lincoln are affected somewhat by the national rate changes because they have a larger percentage of business loans than do other Nebraska banks.

He said the nation's large banks are attempting to tighten credit by setting loan interest rates at levels designed to discourage some potential borrowers.

Dunn said the high rate method is used because banks, for competitive reasons, will not voluntarily ration loans.

Poverty War Limit Won't Affect State

State Technical Assistance Agency Director Ron Jensen said Tuesday he does not think a nationally imposed limit on expansion of the anti-poverty community action program will hurt Nebraska projects.

Jensen reported the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity said it would not approve any new Community Action Program development grants during June, July and August.

He said Nebraska has no grant applications pending but new projects should be ready for federal funding within six months, when the limitation on grant approvals should be lifted.

William Shovell of Kansas City, Mo., regional manager of the Community Action Program, said the grant limitation was imposed because the Budget Bureau wanted to hold down the amount of "unfunded liability" in the anti-poverty effort until Congress decides at what level it wishes to continue the war on poverty.

Jensen noted 10 community action councils covering 36 counties now are operating in Nebraska to coordinate local anti-poverty efforts.

Nebraska was one of seven states which did not use its full allotment of federal funds under the community action program during the fiscal year which ended Thursday. The state used $1.3 million of the 2.2 million allotment.

Traffic Toll 576 In Worst Holiday

Chicago (AP) — The traffic death toll during the three-day Fourth of July weekend climbed to 576 Tuesday, the worst for any summer holiday in the nation's history.

Late reports of traffic deaths that occurred up to midnight Monday night boosted the total beyond the three-day 1965 Labor Day toll of 575 deaths that was the worst for any summer holiday.

This year's traffic toll also surpassed the record four-day July 4 toll of 557 deaths in 1963 as well as last year's count of 551 deaths during a three-day observance.

There were 222 deaths by drowning and 52 in boating accidents for an over-all total of 850 deaths during the holiday observance.

HARD ROLLS Dozen 49c . . . CHERRY ALMOND COFFEE CAKES Each 53c

POSTCARD by Stan Campbell

Babysitter prices have gone up in Shady Acres. "I charged 30 cents an hour last year when I was 10," she said. "But now I'm 11, I charge 50 cents."

Well, the cost of living is up all over—I suppose an 11-year-old babysitter feels the pinch. Bubble gum is not up. But the pieces they give you aren't as big.

There were some five million babies born in the U.S. last year. Figures out about 10 million in diapers at this soggy moment. It's big business.

☆ ☆ ☆

At one time we ran a babysitting service. Me and my older daughter and a boxer dog named Mike.

You got all of us for 50 cents an hour.

My teen-age daughter watched them. The dog sat on them—they really loved it. So did he. They lay on the grass, and he went over and sat on them. Maybe he thought that was what a watchdog does. He was no great brain.

I supervised that babysitter service. Figured out how much money we would make after taxes. And offering advice.

"After they fall in the pool, hold them upside down by the heels so the water can run out."

☆ ☆ ☆

I read women's magazines on babies: "If the baby cries, make sure nothing physical is disturbing it. A diaper pin may have come undone."

Bless your hearts, we had that one solved. We didn't diaper those infants. We let them roll raw on the grass. Just moved them once in awhile to dry ground.

"Boy babies used two to five more diapers a day than girl babies."

This fact was uncovered by the Diaper Service Information Bureau of Philadelphia, Pa. They wished everybody bad boy babies, the big consumers.

I read this. But it made no difference to our service. We treated male and female babies equally. Raw as radishes. The Diaper Service people probably hated us.

☆ ☆ ☆

We ran a practical service for 50 cents. Me and my daughter and the dog.

We didn't let the children eat cigarette butts.

Children are wild to eat cigarette butts. For a time I thought maybe we could endorse a brand — "Winston Tastes Good, Like A Cigarette Should."

We could then show a smiling tot, munching a Winston butt. Obviously pointing out that it did taste good.

The idea never got off the ground. But we did stop them eating butts—particularly the long butts I was saving to smoke when I got out of the water.

I told my daughter, "If they want to eat butts, the parents will have to raise us to 60 cents an hour."

It was not practical to let them eat long butts for less. Even then we would just have broken even.

☆ ☆ ☆

It was a good business and, without diapers, practically no overhead.

And just about the time I could see daylight ahead, my daughter said:

"I'm not going to babysit this summer. I'm too grownup for that kind of thing."

And so my bubble busted. Alackaday.

T. A. Filipi Favors Proposed Dump Site In McCook

State Sanitation Engineer T. A. Filipi said Tuesday McCook's proposed municipal garbage dump site west of the city meets with his full approval.

However, McCook City Manager George Pyle has asked that state action on the site be postponed until city and county officials can reconsider the protests filed against the proposal, Filipi said.

A number of persons who reside or maintain businesses west of McCook have complained that the proposed dump operation would force a drop in property values in the area.

The Federal Aviation Agency has ordered the city to discontinue use of the municipal dump located at the city airport because it attracts birds, a hazard to pilots, Filipi said.

Wilson, President To Parley

London (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson will fly to Washington at the end of this month to discuss with President Johnson possible new peace moves in the Viet Nam conflict, it was disclosed Tuesday.

Authoritative sources said a date in the last week of July has been agreed for the important meeting announced last month.

Wilson will assure the President of the qualified support of the British government for his Viet Nam policy, despite opposition from left wing laborites.

But he will maintain Britain's dissociation from an escalation of the war.

Political sources stressed that Wilson remains firmly wedded to a policy of closest possible cooperation with the United States in the political, defense and economic fields.

The prime minister is confident that the storm from his left wing will blow over.

Anglo-American cooperation remains the key to his policy, despite pressures for a loosening of the partnership at home and President Charles de Gaulle's insistence on freeing Europe from American influence.

5-Year Sentence Still Good For Ralph Ginzburg

Philadelphia (UPI) — U.S. District Judge Ralph C. Body refused Tuesday to grant a hearing for Ralph Ginzburg on a petition for reconsideration of his five year prison sentence for sending obscene material through the mails.

Ginzburg of New York, was convicted in December, 1963, and sentenced to five years in prison and fined $42,000 by Judge Body. The U.S. Supreme Court last May refused for a second time to review his conviction.

Ginzburg formerly published the magazine Eros, the housewife's handbook on selective promiscuity and liaison.

County To Ask Rehearing In Tax Value Increases

Lancaster County will seek a rehearing in the Nebraska Supreme Court in its appeal of State Board of Equalization increases in real estate valuations.

County Atty. Paul Douglas said the county has 20 days or until July 21 to file for a rehearing after the Supreme Court ruling which was handed down last Friday.

The high court affirmed by a 5 to 2 vote the state board action increasing urban property 28% and rural 15% in Lancaster County.

18 Churches Ask Tax Exemptions

Representative of 18 churches appeared before the Lancaster County Board of Equalization Tuesday on applications for tax exemption on 21 pieces of property which included primarily parsonages.

The board had given churches an opportunity to reapply for tax exemption on property placed on the tax rolls two years ago so that the board might reconsider their tax exemption requests on the basis of recent court rulings.

Demos Seek War Support

Los Angeles (AP)—Democratic governors agreed Tuesday to try to swing the National Conference of Governors solidly behind a public proclamation of support for President Johnson's handling of the war in Viet Nam.

They named a committee to work on a resolution designed to command bipartisan approval.

Some Republican governors kept their fingers crossed, and a unanimous vote appeared out of the question.

But the Democrats figured they would round up the required three-fourths of the votes.

Viet Nam and politics, sometimes mixed together, continued to be the major topics, as the 58th governors conference moved to formal business sessions.

The latter were delayed a day because of indications Johnson might join the governors Monday for a 4th of July speech. He didn't.

The governor of the President's home state, John Connally, called Democrats together, as chairman of the Association of Democratic Governors, to offer a resolution backing Johnson on Viet Nam.

The conference adopted such a resolution last year. The only votes against it were from Republicans Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon and George Romney of Michigan.

Hard-to-believe facts about heartburn

(1) In tests at a famous medical center a little white penny tablet beat all other products tested—even a prescription-type antacid costing six times as much. (2) The leading stomach specialist who conducted the tests considers this tablet's special calcium-magnesium formula the best way known to fight heartburn. The tablet? TUMS. Yes, TUMS. No mere candy mint. It's the medicine that's hard to believe, till you take it. TUMS.

Disturbance Only 'Isolated'

Des Moines, Iowa (AP)—A Des Moines civil rights leader Tuesday termed a disturbance by more than 200 Negroes here Monday night an "isolated" incident but said he "wouldn't want to predict it couldn't happen again."

Perry Hooks, secretary of the Des Moines Human Relations Commission, was one of three Negro leaders called in by police to help quell the disturbance in a near north side park.

The incident began after officers were called to Good Park to investigate a report that fireworks—illegal in Iowa—were being shot off.

"I think it was an outgrowth of unrest in the community," said Hooks. "A number of young males have been unable to find employment this summer. They have nothing to do with their time."

Neighbors Resume Diplomatic Ties Broken In 1963

Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic (AP)—The new Dominican government Tuesday designated Manuel Gerrero Pou as ambassador to Haiti. It was the clinching official indication of resumption of diplomatic relations between the island neighbors.

Relations were broken in 1963 during the government of former President Juan Bosch and when Haitian President Francois Duvalier refused to assent to political asylum here for Haitans plotting against.

The resumption of relations is regarded as a shattering blow to anti-Duvalier Haitian exiles, who in the past have mounted at least two abortive invasion attempts from Dominican border camps.

BRIDE at evening ceremony

The marriage of Miss Joanne Kay Stohlman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin A. Stohlman, to Michael John Baxter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Baxter of Greybull, Wyo., was solemnized Tuesday evening, July 5, at Trinity Lutheran Church. The Rev. Paul Krohn read the lines of the candlelight service at 7 o'clock.

Wearing long-skirted frocks of silk crepe in cherry pink narrowly sashed in velvet were Mrs. Frederick Lally, Loring Air Force Base, Maine, as her sister's matron of honor; and the bridesmaids, Miss Becky Gayer, Grand Island, and Miss Karen Harpster.

Serving as best man was Bill Tillinghast, and seating the guests were Warren Spencer, Ogallala; Wayne Kreuscher and Gary Hill.

Petal appliques of re-embroidered Venise lace trimmed the bride's gown of white peau de soie. The lace bordered the crescent neckline of the basque, and was repeated at the cuffed, Empire waist and continued down the front of the slender skirt, which was completed by a court train of the silk and lace. A bandeau of the silk topped with a jeweled lace rose held to the head her tiered veil of illusion, and she carried a cascade of white glamelias and pink sweetheart roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Baxter, both seniors at the University of Nebraska, will make their home at 3737 C. A past editor of the Daily Nebraskan, the bride is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority. Mr. Baxter is a past president of Sigma Delta Chi honorary.

DEAR ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a professional man. He has a girl in his office who is a divorcee with young children to support, but that's HER problem. I stopped at my husband's office for a few minutes yesterday and first off, this girl calls me by my first name in front of a lot of people sitting in the waiting room. Then she said, "Want to hear a cute joke?" I said "All right." Then she told the dirtiest joke I had ever heard.

Abby, I've been married for over 20 years, and my husband would never tell me a joke like that. I left the office at once, not being able to look anyone in the face. Later, I told my husband what happened and demanded that he get rid of that girl.

He says he can't, she is the most efficient girl he has ever had and he "NEEDS" her. Abby, do you think a husband who really loved his wife would keep a girl like that in his office?

IRATE

DEAR IRATE: Possibly. Don't confuse how much your husband "loves" you with how important an employe may be to him. His professional image is likely to suffer if he keeps such a coarse and brazen girl in his office, but until he concludes that she's not worth it, it's HIS problem.

THEIR betrothals are announced this morning

This morning Dr. and Mrs. Robert Moore Wotton make announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Faith Carman, to Michael Percy Cartwright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Cartwright of Whitney.

The wedding is planned for Sunday, Aug 21.

Miss Wotton is a graduate of the University of Nebraska from where she also received her Master's degree, and where she now is a Ph.D. applicant in English. She is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority, and of Pi Lambda Theta honorary.

Mr. Cartwright attended Chadron State College, where he is a member of Sigma Tau. He was graduated and received his Master's degree from the University of Nebraska where he now is working toward his doctorate in English, and where he is a teaching assistant.

There is news from the west coast that will have particular interest for town and former campus circles. This morning Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Gage of Glendale, Calif., make announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Ann, to Fred L. Powell of Los Angeles, son of Mrs. Grace R. Thompson of Lincoln, and Ola G. Powell of Pueblo, Colo.

The wedding is planned for Saturday, Oct. 22.

Miss Gage is a graduate of Glendale College, Glendale, Calif., where she is a member of Psi Delta Phi.

Mr. Powell is a graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Engineering and Architecture, and is a member of the American Institute of Architects.

NEWS of suburban areas

Lincoln's hospitality is shown to good advantage in this morning news of Suburbia. New arrivals find us "friendly," and evidence of this is in the plethora of houseguests entertained recently. "Thank you's" to all of the gracious hosts and hostesses, and welcoming "hello's" to the newcomers!

NORTHEAST HEIGHTS

A former Nebraskan, Mrs. Frank Allen arrived from Long Beach, Calif., on June 23 for a month of vacation here. Last week Mrs. Allen was the houseguest of her grandson, LaRoy Campbell, and Mrs. Campbell and their family.

Mrs. Allen also has family and friends in Waverly, with whom she will be visiting this month. These include a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Art Baker and their family — and two granddaughters, Mrs. Darrell Hagaman, and Mrs. Lee Stubblefield, and their families.

There's lots of "comings and goings" at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Fauver. For example, Mrs. Fauver's aunt, Mrs. Russell Welch and her son, Danny, of Loveland, Colo., have been the houseguests of the Fauvers while Mrs. Welch attends the Headstart training program offered at the University of Nebraska.

Mr. Welch joined his family and Mr. and Mrs. Fauver in Lincoln for the Fourth of July and a weekend celebration with more of their relatives in Stanton. The Stanton group included Mr. and Mrs. Henry Spreen, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Schrant, and Mrs. Jesse Miller.

MAPLE VILLAGE

More newcomers to Lincoln are Mr. and Mrs. Lisle Rose, and their daughter, Julie, 2, formerly of Berkeley, Calif., and now of 8000 Cherrywood Dr. Mr. Rose, who will be awarded his doctorate in history from the University of California at Berkeley in September, is a new member of the faculty at the University of Nebraska as an assistant professor of history.

TALK around Town

There is a little homecoming—a bit of weekend 'guesting'—a communique from the talcum powder set — and news of women, golf and a tournament — all to chatter about this morning.

• • •

The homecomers are Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Woodward who returned to Lincoln on Sunday after covering considerable territory on the west coast where, we might add, they also visited with numerous friends. Dr. and Mrs. Woodward went from Lincoln to Seattle to attend the wedding of their granddaughter, Miss Leslie Woodward, and Rex Allison Jr., which took place on Sunday, June 19—After Seattle there was a trip down the coast to Rancho Santa Fe, Calif. — with stops en route. Before returning home Dr. and Mrs. Woodward stopped in Denver for a brief visit with their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. James M. Woodward Jr.

• • •

The weekend traveler we had in mind was Miss Cathie Cather who went to Columbus where she was the Friday-to-Tuesday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Petsch.

• • •

That new member of the bassinet club is Andrew Stanton Pollock who arrived on June 27. The young man is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pollock of Ogallala, and his mother is the former Beverly Buck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Buck of Lincoln. The paternal grandparents are Judge and Mrs. F. H. Pollock of Norfolk.

As we mentioned a few days ago — the Nebraska Women's State Invitational Golf Tournament opens next Monday at the Fremont Golf Club. Lincoln will be well represented at the tournament, so we hear, and this morning we have the names of the feminine golfers from the Hillcrest Country Club who plan to attend.

On the 'go' list are Mrs. Ted Franks, Mrs. D. E. Murray, Mrs. Richard Marshall, Mrs. William Manton, Mrs. Frank Hobbs, Mrs. Fred Stiner, Mrs. Sam Schwartzkopf, Miss Christie Schwartzkopf, Mrs. Roy Vermaas, Mrs. Richard Pocros, Mrs. Robert Deitemeyer, Mrs. Van Ashmun, Mrs. Frank Neumayer, Mrs. Douglas Koser and—two junior golfers—Miss Kay Stiner and Miss Susie Schwartzkopf.

The LCC list is not quite complete—but we'll tell you about it tomorrow.

• • •

No day passes without mention of a bride-elect, and this morning we have a prenuptial courtesy for Miss Ann Peery whose marriage to Barry S. Johnston will take Place on Saturday, July 30.

Complimenting Miss Peery today is Mrs. C. Robert Mowbray who will be a coffee hostess at the Lincoln Country Club. The guests, including Alpha Chi Omega sisters of the soon-to-be bride, have been invited for 10:30 o'clock. Miss Peery will be presented with a china shower.

A Beauty Hint

Give your skin a delightful bloom to last through the driest and hottest of summers. Damp a cloth in the cold water from your refrigerator and smooth it over your face and neck, or better still, cool and use your bottle of lemon Jelvyn instead. Feel the skin respond to the refreshing Jelvyn toning action. Now, to hold the bloom, smooth on your oil of Olay and use it always under your make-up to protect against the weather and to give the skin that young dewy look.

The bidding:

Opening lead — king of clubs.

This hand was played in the Gold Cup, Great Britain's premier team of four event, in the semifinal match between a London team and a Yorkshire team.

At the first table, where the London team had the North-South cards, the bidding went as shown. Obviously, something went wrong in the bidding when North-South failed to reach even a small slam, with a grand slam in spades practically icecold.

North was primarily at fault. He failed to realize that he had not shown his full strength by bidding three diamonds over three clubs. He should have been slam-minded from the moment South opened with two notrump, and he did not discharge this obligation fully by the free bid of three diamonds and the more or less closing bid of three notrump.

North would have had the values for a three diamond bid if the ace of diamonds had been the deuce, and he should have recognized this during the bidding. South easily made thirteen tricks for a score of 720 points.

Had the Yorkshire North-South pair at the second table taken full advantage of the situation, they would have racked up a nice profit on the hand. (Seven spades bid and made would have come to a neat 2,210 points.)

But, after two passes, the bidding started in this colorful fashion:

Northcountryman (sitting South): "Two cloobs."

West (imitating South): "Dooble."

After several more rounds of bidding, the Yorkshire North-South pair got to six spades, at which point West said: "Seven Cloobs. You can dooble me if you like."

West went down 1,300 doobled!

Down seven would have shown a nice profit for the East-West pair if their teammates at the first table had bid a small slam or a grand slam, but the way things finally worked out, the London team showed a loss on the deal of 580 points.

Sports Editor, The Star

No Fishing, Please

Several sounds have the quality of shaking one back into reality during vacation daydreaming. Sounds such as the screeching of auto brakes just before the collision, the noise of a riot starting and the noise of a golf ball plunking into the water.

And now you can add to that list the sound of someone asking, "Do you want to go fishing?"

You may ask, "What's so bad about that sound?" Well, nothing really except that it was asked by an aunt and the time happened to be about midnight.

After getting both the chair and myself into an upright position again, I informed her that there are a lot of things I enjoy doing at the midnight hour, but fishing wasn't one of them.

"In fact, I have been sitting here thinking of what I might do for the next hour," I informed her. "And fishing isn't even in the top 50."

"Well, you're supposed to be a sports editor," she shot back. "How can you be a sports editor if you don't fish?

"Why don't you forget that goofy game of golf for awhile and get out on the lake for a little fishing?"

It was obvious she was trying to start trouble. "My boss has never complained about ny non-fishing activities," I replied. "And I don't see why you should argue the point.

"And besides, I don't like your calling golf a goofy game."

Communistic, Too

The trouble-making aunt explained it is a goofy game because you pay your $2 to play, then try to keep from playing by taking as few strokes as possible.

"It's also an unpatriotic game," she charged. "We're supposed to be displaying the American flag on the Fourth of July and all of those golf courses have red flags flying. Isn't that unpatriotic?"

Trying to avoid a family feud, I agreed half-heartedly to accept the fishing challenge. "But not at midnight," I warned. "Isn't there any other time to go fishing?"

Being told that the best time to fish is either late at night or very early in the morning, I inquired as to what early meant.

"About 4 o'clock," was the reply. "Whoops, count me out again," I said, thinking that only one thing will get me up at 4 a.m. "Can't we go about 2 o'clock in the afternoon?"

"You can, but the fish don't bite then because it's too hot," I was then informed. "The fish come out best late at night or early in the morning.

IQ The Same

She then hurled a coffee cup at me when I charged, "Well, that puts you and the fish in the same IQ grade if they're going to be biting and you're going to be sitting out there at those hours."

A compromise was finally reached and it was agreed that we would venture out close to sundown the next day.

"I'm wearing swim trunks," I said in explaining my attire, "because the last time I was in your boat the motor stopped and I had to row back to shore. It took me until last week to get rid of those bulging muscles I acquired from rowing last summer.

"If that boat stops again, I'm swimming back."

Not knowing anything about fishing, I had to be shown how to cast, an act that right away appeared dangerous.

"If you think I'm going to stand up and get that hook behind me to cast over my head you're crazy," I observed. "What if that hook doesn't get past me? Doesn't it smart a little when it catches me in the place normally designed for sitting? If you don't mind, Ill just drop my hook into the water."

After two hours of sitting while the fishing veteran aunt had hooked a number of fish, I had managed only to hook onto a large floating ramp which she refused to let me haul in.

"You don't have the right kind of license for that," she claimed.

GM Racers Face Double Jeopardy For Violations

. . . 'RACE ON STRIPS, NOT STREETS'

How would you like to have double jeopardy on a traffic fine with one payment going to the court and the other to your wife?

It's almost like that with the GM Racing Team of Lincoln — one of the hottest teams at the Omaha Dragway and one of the safest groups anywhere on city streets.

"We do our racing on the strips, not on the streets," said GM vice president Harvey Nash, 23-year-old Nebraska Wesleyan student, in explaining the team rule that traffic fines to members mean automatic club fines for half the amount.

The success of the GM Team strip racing is shown in more than 290 trophies won last year on dragways from Denver to Wichita to Omaha. This by a group with a membership of 18.

"This year it's been a little sad luck and bad luck," said Nash in speaking of blown engines and lost rear ends which have disabled a number of cars. Still, the GM team has been collecting its share of trophies.

Most club members hail from small Nebraska farming communities but nearly all now are living and working in Lincoln. Meetings are held at the home of president Wayne Lewis, 25, of 1941 South 52nd.

Lewis, like most club members, is married. He, Nash, and sergeant at arms Denny Reed were charter members when the team formed in the fall of 1963. Average age of club members is 23.

"We require a driver to be at least 19 and have a General Motors car no older than a 1955 model," said Lewis. "Each member owns his own car. None are sponsored although we wouldn't object if a dealer or garage wanted to help out."

Rules of the club are strict and stiff penalties (including forfeiture of membership) are imposed for missing meetings which are on a weekly basis during the summer. "We want guys who are going to run, not talk," Lewis said. "That's what the club is for."

The GM Team has gone "hi-fi" this year, dressing up their cars with lettering. Members are easily identifiable at the drag strip in white, short-sleeve shirts with black lettering. In reporting trophy times, however, members sign in with a simple: "GM Racing Team."

One of the team's classiest and fastest cars is Jim Dotson's "Beauty and the Beast." The 350-horsepower blue 1965 Corvette has turned a 13.08-second quarter mile with a speed of 106.88 miles an hour. Dotson and his buddies think the Vet has a crack at the NHRA D sports record of 12.62-109.22.

KOUFAX WINS NO. 15

Dodger Hurler Shuts Out Reds

. . . TIES CLUB RECORD

Los Angeles (AP)—Sandy Koufax won his 15th game Tuesday night as the Los Angeles Dodgers edged Cincinnati 1-0 on John Kennedy's run-scoring single in the second inning. The loss was the Reds' seventh straight.

A walk by Jim Lefebvre and a single by John Roseboro set up Kennedy's game-winning hit and helped Koufax, 15-3, win a pitching duel from Jim Maloney, 9-4, and Billy McCool. It was Maloney's fifth straight Dodger Stadium defeat.

Koufax allowed 10 hits walked one and struck out eight, as he went the route for the 15th time in 20 starts and lowered his earned run average to 1.51.

The shutout was Koufax' third of the season and 38th of his career, tying the Dodger club record set by Nap Rucker.

Maloney and McCool allowed only five hits, but two of them came in the second inning when the Dodgers scored their run.

Palmer Shoots 69 With Woods In Bag

. . . BRITISH OPEN TUNEUP

Muirfield, Scotland (AP)—Arnold Palmer tossed his woods aside Tuesday and promptly mastered Muirfield's tough par 71 links in his final workout for the 1966 British Open golf championship which starts Wednesday.

He also threw away the habit many top professionals indulge in—the complaints of bad backs, sore shoulders, colds and other ailments which seem to disappear magically when play begins.

"I'm fine," said the Latrobe, Pa., golfing millionaire, "Nothing wrong with me at all."

Meanwhile, some of the others kept up the legend of their weaknesses and ailments.

Tony Lema of San Leandro, Calif., who won the Open at St. Andrews in 1964, complained bitterly about a cold and sinus trouble.

"I'd just as soon go home now," he said.

Phil Rodgers of LaJolla, Calif., wasn't feeling well and said of his closing practice play:

"I was real poor out there."

Julius Boros of Mid-Pines, N.C., was struggling with a sore elbow and three fingers which have been hurting him since he dug up a tree root in a tournament three years ago.

Peter Thomson of Australia, the defending champion, worried about his hay fever, did not play.

Gary Player, an asthma case, was unhappy about the way he was feeling. He has withdrawn from the Open twice in the past four years because of sudden illness.

Palmer used his irons almost entirely to shoot a two under par 69 in his last workout over the 6,887 yard Muirfield course which has been turned into a terror by knee-high rough.

Cubs Release Broglio

Chicago (AP) — Pitcher Ernie Broglio was released outright by the Chicago Cubs Tuesday to Tacoma of the Pacific Coast League.

The right-hander, who will be 31 next month, completed two of 11 games he started this season and had a 2-6 record with a 6.39 earned run average in 62 innings.

—CARDS DEFEAT LEADERS ON JACKSON'S TWO-HITTER—

Giants' Margin Sliced To 1½ Games

San Francisco (AP)—Al Jackson pitched a two-hitter and St. Louis speed helped build two runs as the Cardinals topped the San Francisco Giants 3-1 Tuesday.

Jackson, winning his eighth game in 14 decisions, retired the last 16 batters in a row.

The loss cut the Giants' National League lead to 1½ games over second place Pittsburgh which defeated Chicago 6-0.

Lou Brock, who stole three bases, led off the game by reaching first after striking out on a wild pitch that bounced off the plate. He stole second and came home on consecutive ground outs by Phil Gagliano and Curt Flood.

Dal Maxville opened the eighth with a single, moved to second on Jackson's sacrifice bunt, went to third on an error by losing pitcher Ron Herbel and scored on a squeeze bunt by Gagliano.

Tim McCarver's bases empty homer in the second accounted for St. Louis' other run.

The Giants scored in the second when second baseman Jerry Buchek dropped Jim Hart's pop fly for a two-base error, and Ozzie Virgil singled him home.

Willie Mays singled in the fourth for the Giants' other hit.

—WEST RUNS BACKS IN 2 UNITS—

Hodgson Replaces Tolleson

Atlanta (AP) — Pat Hodgson, former Georgia end, has been added to the East All-Stars for the Coaches' All-America football game here Saturday.

He Replaces Alabama's Tommy Tolleson, who was injured Monday.

Hodgson, who was signed with the Washington Redskins, joined the workouts Tuesday with the sanction of his pro bosses. One of the leading receivers of the Southeastern Conference, Hodgson caught 26 passes last year on Coach Vince Dooley's surprise team which upset Alabama and Michigan and defeated rival Georgia Tech.

In the second day of practice, both teams were taking shape. West Coach Tommy Prothro of the University of Southern California had his backs running in separate units, although he says there are no first or second unit designations.

In one backfield were quarterback Randy Johnson of Texas A&I, left half Mike Garrett of Southern California, fullback Walt Garrison of Oklahoma State, and flanker Jim Lindsey of Arkansas.

In the other backfield were quarterback Gary Lane of Missouri, left half Donny Anderson of Texas Tech, fullback Paul Horgan of UCLA and flanker Bobby Crockett of Arkansas.

East Coach Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State, however, found his offensive offerings thin.

"We'll have to make our offensive backfield substitutions individually. We don't have enough boys to work in units," he said.

Mutuel Handle Record For Ak-Sar-Ben Meet

Omaha—Attendance fell shy of the record, but bettors pushed more money through the windows than ever before during the 42-day Ak-Sar-Ben Racing season which ended Monday.

The attendance of 552,412 was up over last year when 550,164 saw the races, but this year's figure was short of the record 552,650 who went to the track in 1954.

The mutuel handle for the meet produced an all-time high with $31,775,957 being bet to top the record of $31,490,237.

Horses owned by Marion H. Van Berg won 28 races, the most ever won by an owner here and one more than he won in 1960.

Willie Fleming and Jack Van Berg repeated as leading jockey and trainer respectively. Fleming's 278 mounts topped the record of 263 ridden by Jerry Lambert in 1963.

Van Berg-trained horses won 28 races, finished second in 22 races and paid show money in 21 starts.

Pirates Move Closer To Top

. . . SANTO'S STREAK ENDS

Chicago (AP)—Rookie Woody Fryman fired a three-hitter for his third straight shutout as Pittsburgh defeated the Chicago Cubs 6-0 Tuesday.

Fryman was tagged for a single in the first inning and a double in the third, and a single in the ninth, all of them by Billy Williams. Only three other Cubs reached base, two on errors and the other on a base on balls. He retired 17 batters in a row over one stretch.

The victory was Fryman's seventh against three losses. He has allowed just seven hits in his last three games.

Donn Clendenon and Jose Pagan were the Pirates' batting stars. Clendenon hammered a two-run homer in the sixth and Pagan had three doubles, driving in two runs.

Fryman also ended Ron Santo's 28-game batting streak, the longest in the majors this season. The Cubs' All-Star third baseman grounded out twice, flied out and walked in four trips.

Braves Win 4th Straight

Houston (AP) — Joe Torre drove in two runs with a homer and scored three times, leading the Atlanta Braves to their fourth straight victory, a 9-4 decision over Houston Tuesday night.

Torre led the attack against Mike Cuellar, who suffered his first loss after winning six straight.

The Braves' bulky catcher socked his 20th homer in the fifth following a walk to Rico Carty. The blow gave the Braves a 6-2 lead.

Clarke Sets 2 World Records

Stockholm, Sweden (AP) — Ron Clarke recaptured the world record for the 5,000 meters with a 13:16.6 clocking in an international track and field meet Tuesday night and simultaneously bettered his world record for the three miles with a 12:50.4.

Clarke of Australia thus took the 5,000 meters mark back from Kenya's Kipchoge Keino who had done it in 13:24.2 in breaking Clarke's previous 13:25.8 record. Clarke had set that mark in Los Angeles on June 4, 1965, and in the same race had compiled the listed world mark for the three miles with 13:00.4.

Clarke brought cheers from an enthusiastic crowd of 10,000 as he left his opponents far behind and ran the last two laps virtually alone.

Jackson Hits, Pitches Phils To 3-1 Win

Philadelphia (AP) — Larry Jackson slammed a two-run double and pitched the Philadelphia Phillies to a 3-4 victory over the New York Mets Tuesday night.

Jackson, who upped his lifetime record against the Mets to 15-0, trailed 1-0 when he came to bat in the sixth with one out and runners at first and second. He ripped a double that scored Bill White, who had singled, and Bob Uecker, one of seven walks that rookie Bill Hepler allowed in his first major league start.

Jackson later scored on John Callison's single, but his clutch hit—his third in 36 at bats—was enough to clinch his sixth win against seven defeats.

Uhlaender, Killebrew Spark Minnesota Rally

Cleveland (AP)—Ted Uhlaender doubled home the tying run and Harmon Killebrew's sacrifice fly drove in the winner as Minnesota rallied for a 4-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians Tuesday night.

Uhlaender's double scored Jimmie Hall and chased starter Tom Kelley in the seventh. Hall rapped a pinch hit single for starter Jim Merritt and moved around on a single by Zoilo Versalles.

Killebrew then lofted a sacrifice fly to Vic Davalillo off reliever Dick Radatz after Tony Oliva was purposely passed.

Rocky Colavito and Chuck Hinton homered for the Indians and Oliva rapped one for the Twins, his 16th. Colavito's 16th gave the Indians a 2-0 lead in the first following a walk to Chico Salmon.

Hinton poked his second of the year, a solo shot in the fourth, over the left field fence.

The Twins scored another run on Versalles' sacrifice fly in the third after Bernie Allen and Russ Nixon walked and moved up on Merritt's sacrifice.

1st National 3-0 Winner In 11 Innings

First National Bank broke open a scoreless battle in the top of the 11th inning to take a 3-0 decision over Gerry's in American Legion baseball action at Sherman Field Monday night.

The rally, ignited by singles by Dennis Beckmann and Tom Kos, broke up a tight pitching duel between First National's Steve Mitchell and Gerry's Delbert Smith. Just one runner had advanced as far as third base in the first nine innings.

Beckmann and Kos moved up on a sacrifice by Tom Hayes, then Beckmann scored on a wild pitch and Kos came home on an infield error. Mitchell scored the third run, reaching base on the error and scoring on Dick Henderson's single.

Mitchell walked just two and gave up only three singles in his 11-inning stint.

Smith, who had pitched only four innings prior to Monday night, posted 15 strikeouts.

Santo's Hitting Streak 28 Games, New Cub Record

Chicago (AP) — The Chicago Cubs have been notified by the National League that Ron Santo had an official consecutive game hitting streak of 28 instead of 27 going into Tuesday's game against Pittsburgh.

The change moved the All-Star third baseman to within nine games of the modern NL record set by Tommy Holmes of the Boston Braves in 1945. Santo also is the sole holder of the Cub's record breaking mark of 27 games established by Hack Wilson in 1929.

The NL office pointed out that Santo did not have an official time at bat in the opener of a June 1 doubleheader against Philadelphia and that his streak actually started May 31 when he had one hit in three tries.

A's Turn Into Giant Killers

. . . WINNING OVER LEADERS

Baltimore (AP) — The Kansas City Athletics, almost as hot as the current heat wave, have turned giant killers in the last month, knocking off American league pennant contenders with uncommon regularity.

After the first 20 games of the season, Kansas City sported its customary 15 losses. But since then the A's have played .500 ball.

On June 17, the eighth place Athletics faced the dreary task of playing the league's top five clubs in 27 consecutive games. Included in that stretch that actually ends this coming Sunday with a doubleheader against Cleveland are 19 straight contests against league-leading Baltimore, second place Detroit and third place Cleveland.

But Manager Al Dark's battling A's, a crew of rookie pitchers and fielders picked up from a number of teams in last-minute trades, have won 12 of the last 19 games, including their last three in a row.

And the standings after games on Independence Day, the traditional halfway mark of the season, show that the A's, jokingly referred to in past years as a New York Yankee farm club because of their many trades, have won one more game than the Yanks.

Kansas City split four-game series with both California and Chicago, took three of four from Cleveland and stopped a three-game Baltimore winning streak before losing the final two games of the series to the Orioles.

Then the A's traveled to Detroit. Th eTigers were hoping to move closer to the top rung of the American League ladder as they were to play a five-game set with the A's while Baltimore took on Minnesota for five games.

But Kansas City swept a doubleheader Sunday, taking three of the five games, while Baltimore swept its series with the Twins.

Monday, Dark sent 20-year-old Jim (Catfish) Hunter against Baltimore with only two days rest. Hunter, in only his second professional season, received help from Jim Duckworth, a Washington Senator castoff, and Jack Aker, a 25-year-old relief specialist, to crush the Orioles 9-6.

Ed Charles, Dick Green, Bert Campaneris, Danny Cater, and a host of other A's have taken turns as the batting hero in the A's splurge.

Charles has raised his average from .237 to .261 in the last 21 games. Green, who was wallowing around the .193 mark on June 17, is now batting at a .231 clip.

Besides Hunter, pitchers Lew Krause, Paul Lindblad, Chuck Dobson, Jim Nash and Ken Sanders are all under 26 years old. Except for Sanders, all are in the starting rotation and all are either in their first or second year in the majors.

Dark's usual line - up includes Phil Roof, Cater, Roger Repoz, Joe Nossek Larry Stahl or Jim Gosger. None was with the A's last year except Stahl, who saw only brief service.

Boston Trims Yankees, 7-1

New York (AP) — George Smith's home run with two runners on base highlighted a four-run second inning that carried Boston to a 7-1 victory over the New York Yankees Tuesday.

The drive helped right-hander Derrell Brandon win his first major league game. He has lost two.

Smith's homer followed a triple by George Scott and a walk to George Thomas. A single by Mike Ryan, a sacrifice and Rico Petrocelli's double added the fourth run.

NAACP Opposes Anti-Riot Bill

Los Angeles (AP) — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored people, at its 57th annual convention, voted "strenuous opposition" Tuesday to proposed anti-riot legislation pending in the California legislature.

"The proposed legislation is not needed," said an "emergency resolution" adopted unanimously by delegates at the opening session of their five-day convention.

"Present laws are adequate to enable the police to deal effectively with any actual or threatened act of civil unrest, disorder or riot or other illegal conduct.

"However, (the measure) provides an easy device for police abuse and denial of constitutionally guaranteed rights of freedom of expression."

The emergency resolution said the proposed law, Assembly Bill No. 201, "would make it a misdemeanor for any person to 'do any act or engage in any conduct which urges' a riot or urges others to commit acts of violence or the burning or destroying of property."

"Despite the advice of the state's most respected legal authorities that the legislation was ill-conceived and unnecessary, the bill was placed on the agenda of the special session by Gov. Brown at the persistent urging of Mayor Sam Yorty and law enforcement officials of Los Angeles and was reported out of committee by a unanimous vote . . .

"In testimony before the committee considering this legislation, Mayor Yorty stated that public officials in Los Angeles considered that a clear and present danger existed in this city and that, therefore, circumstances existed warranting prior restraints on freedom of the press and freedom of speech.

"The . . . proposal provides a weapon which is likely to be used to suppress the legitimate activities of civil rights advocates and to deny rights of freedom of expression and association to law-abiding citizens, especially Negroes . . .

Reagan Won't Run For President

Los Angeles (AP)—Ronald Reagan removed himself Tuesday from consideration for the 1968 Republican nomination for president.

Reagan, the GOP candidate for governor of California, told a news conference that if he is elected he will serve all four years of his term.

Asked again if he'd serve the full term assuming his health is good, he replied "assuming that and God's will I shall."

Nominee To Advise State Tops Lyndon Johnson's List

Johnson City, Texas (AP) — The addition of a top-level State Department adviser topped a list of nominations announced Tuesday by President Johnson.

He named Robert B. Bowie, 56, a lawyer and teacher, to be the department's counselor. He is now professor of international relations at Harvard.

The post of counselor had been consolidated in 1961 under Walt W. Rostow with that of head of the policy planning committee.

When Johnson brought Rostow to the White House as a presidential assistant, he announced that the posts would be separated. He already has named Henry Owen to head the policy group.

Other nominations announced by Johnson Tuesday included a new member of the Atomic Energy Commission, an assistant secretary of welfare in charge of education activities, an asistant secretary of the interior for water pollution, and four federal judges. All are subject to Senate confirmation.

Wilfrid E. Johnson, 61, was picked for the place on the AEC. A native of England, Johnson recently retired as general manager of the General Electric Co. Hanford Atomic Products Operation at Richland, Wash.

Paul Miller, president of the University of West Virginia, was named assistant welfare secretary for education programs.

Frank Di Luzio, 52, was chosen assistant secretary of the interior for water pollution programs. He now is director of the department's Saline Water Office and will continue to hold that post, at least temporarily. The Italian-born engineer's salary will go up from $25,382 to $27,000.

Three of the judicial appointments announced by Johnson at a news conference at his ranch near here are for courts of appeals. The nominations:

For the 7th Circuit Court of Appeals, Walter J. Cummings Jr. 50, of Chicago and Thomas E. Fairchild, 54, of Milwaukee. This serves Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin.

Theodore Cabot, 48, of Ft. Lauderdale, is being nominated as a judge of the southern district of Florida.

Johnson also named Robert E. Byrd of the Center For International Affairs at Harvard University to the foreign policy advisers board.

State Checking On Non-Licensed Insurance Sellers

State Insurance Director Frank Barrett said Tuesday his office has received a number of complaints regarding the alleged solicitation of insurance by non-licensed individuals.

He cautioned Nebraskans who are approached by insurance salesmen to make sure the individual is licensed by the State Insurance Department.

"Some non-licensed individuals have been purportedly selling insurance to Nebraska residents with the result that the policies have been badly misrepresented," he said.

Barrett noted the department will push for prosecution of any individuals selling insurance without a license. The penalty is a fine totaling not more than $100 or imprisonment not exceeding three months.

Homosexuality Bill Is Approved

London (AP) — The House of Commons allowed by a huge majority Tuesday night the introduction of a bill to legalize homosexuality between consenting male adults in private. The size of the vote, 244-100, appeared to assure passage.

Commons voted approval 164-107 of a similar bill in February, but the bill died before final reading when the House adjourned for the general elections. The House of Lords since has passed a similar bill.

The bill does not cover women, since lesbianism never has been illegal in modern Britain.

Terms of the bill were first recommended by the government - sponsored Wolfenden Report a decade ago. Leo Abase, a Laborite who has fought for the measure for years, sponsored the present bill.

Leading the opposition was Sir Cyril Osborne, a Conservative. He was hooted down by the House when he said the measure would undermine discipline in the armed forces and ruin the nation's moral fiber.

Fiddlers Group To Convene Here

The Nebraska Old Time Fiddlers Association will hold its convention here on July 31.

According to DeLores "Fiddling De" DeRyke, the meeting will be mainly a get-acquainted get-together for the more than 500 members all over the state.

Each group will have a chance to perform, Mrs. DeRyke said.

Escapee Is Captured After Kidnaping Four

Gastonia, N.C. (UPI) — State police captured an escaped felon Tuesday after he kidnaped four persons and raped one of them in a two-day flight across the North Carolina foothills.

Robert James Hunley, armed with a .22 caliber rifle, was captured without a struggle by two patrolmen at a roadblock on the Interstate highway midway between Charlotte and here.

His latest two hostages, railroad brakeman Bobby Greer Clement, 31, and his wife, Alice, 27, were unharmed.

Scores of police cars searched the highways for Hunley after he abducted the Clement couple from their home near Lexington.

Clement said Hunley spotted one of the police cars and said: "I sure hope that police car goes on around us, because if it doesn't, I'll just have to shoot my way out."

In Lexington, police were trying to identify another man Hunley boasted he kidnaped near Lexington Monday night. Hunley told the Clements he got his civilian clothes and rifle ammunition from the man he kidnaped in Lexington. He also claimed the man's wife had a "heart attack."

Hunley kidnaped two Virginians Monday after escaping from a state prison camp at Chatam, Va. He raped the woman hostage and forced the man to drive him to Lexington.

Hunley was held by Gaston County police with a string of capital charges pending against him. He was questioned by FBI agents on possible federal violations.

Four Hungarians Free

Vienna (UPI)—Four young Hungarians swam and waded to freedom across the Austrian border 24 miles southeast of Vienna. The refugees, a 23-year-old carpenter, a 17-year-old unskilled worker and two girls, 16 and 19, applied for political asylum in Austria.

Malawi Becomes Republic

Limbe, Malawi (UPI) — Malawi became a republic within the Commonwealth Wednesday two years after independence, with a flourish of trumpets, a 21-gun salute and the cheers of thousands massed in the city to celebrate.

Salvos of fireworks burst overhead as midnight passed, heralding the birth of the new nation.

Dr. Hasting Banda, a U.S.-educated physician who served as premier while independent Malawi recognized Britain's Queen Elizabeth II as head of state, switched jobs with the changeover to become president.

Pictures of Banda were everywhere amid the blaze of flags in Malawi's national colors of green, red and black.

Malawi became the ninth republic within the 22-nation Commonwealth two years to the day after achieving independence, with the breakup of the old Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland.

Banda's official assumption of the presidency was the highlight of a nine-hour program at the Central Stadium.

A display of traditional Malawi dancing, gymnastic displays, presentation of new colors to the Malawi rifles military unit, a football game and still another display of booming fireworks marked the ceremony.

Britain is expected to continue to support Malawi's severely strained economy and back Banda who has been as bitter in his denunciations of communism as the militant nationalism often expressed by his African neighbors.

Select Nebraska Representatives For Boys Nation

John Simon of Falls City and Ralph Eickhoff of Columbus have been selected to represent Nebraska at the twenty-first annual session of Boys Nation in Washington, D. C., on July 22-29, the Nebraska American Legion announced Tuesday.

The two were chosen from among the 395 students who attended Cornhusker Boys State in Lincoln, June 11-17. Simon was elected county sheriff, and Eickhoff was elected to the Boys State legislature.

They will join 98 other representatives from other states who will continue their citizenship training and government study on the national level.

PIN-WORMS A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Stock Mart Puts On Mixed Show

New York (AP) — The stock market put on an irregular performance Teusday amidst caution which reduced trading to the slowest pace since early June.

Volume was 4.63 million shares compared with 5.23 million Friday. It was the lightest since June 8 when 4.59 million shares changed hands.

A few more stocks rose than fell and the performance of the popular market averages was contradictory.

The market staged a small advance in the morning but soon backed away. Wall Street preferred a watch-and-wait policy pending whatever news was forthcoming after the market close from a scheduled news conference with President Johnson.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which had been up 2.17 at the end of the first half-hour ended with a loss of 1.79 at 875.27.

Of 1,277 issues traded, 571 rose and 542 fell. New highs for the year totaled seven and new lows 64.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced .2 to 316.4 with industrials up .6, rails off .2 and utilities up .1.

Eight of the 15 most-active stocks rose and a seventh fell.

The volume leader was Walter E. Heller which eased ⅛ to 8⅝ on 168,000 shares. The lion's share of this turnover came in a single block of 150,000 shares.

Outstanding weakness was shown by United Aircraft which sank 5⅜ to 78⅜ as seventh most active stock. Investment analysts said Wall Street was taking into consideration that the company's output was not sufficient to meet both military and commercial demands and this was resulting in a lag of deliveries to commercial clients and would have an adverse effect on earnings.

On the American Stock Exchange, more stocks fell than rose but the exchange's stock index rose $.01 to $13.40. Volume was 1.32 million shares compared with 1.39 million Friday.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds were mixed.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Efforts To Solve Problems May Create New Ones

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

Every 'do gooder' who tampers with the American economic success recipe tends to create as many problems as he solves.

Thus, if inflation, by way of illustration, should result in doubling the amount of money and credit outstanding and if the increment were divided equally among all the people, the nature of the readjustment would be mild.

Rukeyser

However, while the upwards of 70 million gainfully employed people face both sides of the equation, taking in money in wages and salary, on the one hand, and paying funds out as consumers meeting the cost of living, on the other, there is a big bloc of older folk who get hit by rising prices without offsetting benefits. The older people, especially those who stuck with fixed dollar investments without adjusting to the new vogue of common stocks as long term investments, are the principal victims of inflation.

According to the latest figures, in 1964 39.8 million people got $11.8 billions in annuities, private pensions, and other non-governmental welfare payments. The buying power of such payments has been more than cut in half since 1939 by a rising cost of living.

Blind Spot

This recalls that the late Sir William Beveridge, author of the concept of "cradle to the grave" security, complained in a speech after retirement from active life that inflation had robbed him of part of the value of his pension. It seemed to me that he had a blind spot in not recognizing that the social schemes which he espoused — and which entailed enormous government spending — had fanned the flames of the very inflation of which he complained. He was in the position of the man who murdered his mother and father and then went into court to plead for clemency on the ground that he was an orphan.

Every time government legislation lifts minimum wages for marginal workers, it indirectly deteriorates the buying power of pensions and other fixed dollar income, such as interest on bonds, savings deposits, and annuities.

Once you start to interfere with factors of supply and demand under the guise of "economic planning," you create maladjustments In view of the dilemma, some devotees of the free competitive market think that the government owes a compensatory move for older citizens who are too advanced in years to recoup lost purchasing power through personal services.

For example, Arthur Krock, in the New York Times, concluded: "The architects of the Great Society—the return of world peace permitting — would not soar much higher in their general concept if they proposed that the government each month make up the difference between the original and current purchasing power of fixed-income dollars. It is difficult to see how otherwise to rescue these pensioners from being the real victims of inflation."

Tongue In Cheek

Krock, a sound observer, must have had his tongue in his cheek. Obviously, there would be technical obstacles in assigning government to the role of providing perfect equity among various economic groups. Obviously, one practical problem is what base to start with. Through the decades, there has been slow deterioration in the buying power of money.

Already government is imposing hardships on the young and productive workers in higher payroll taxes in order to provide Medicare and other benefits for those over 65. In the last analysis, this problem in its human aspects must be viewed in terms of available goods and services rather than in money terms. There is a limit, if a semblance of the highly productive American incentive system is to be perpetuated, to the amount of production that can be diverted from active workers to those who are idle.

Certainly, from the standpoint of poetic justice, there is something to be said for the fixed income group. But there is a more scientific adjustment in the realm of self help to the facts of life as reflected in inflation. Nearly 40 years ago Edgar Lawrence Smith in his book "Common Stocks as Long Term Investments" showed the unwisdom in a growing economy of investment solely in fixed dollar commitments.

This idea hs penetrated the institutional, as well as individual, investors and in the last decade an increasing array of private pension fund investment managers have been balancing their institutional portfolios with shares as well as bonds. These have been a parallel trend in the investments of colleges and universities, hospitals, and foundations.

Those now 65 were about 25 when Smith made his contribution to investment thinking. If they ignored the financial, political and social trends in their private savings plan, they too bear some responsibility.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries with stamped self-addressed envelope concerning their financial problems in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column. Others, to the extent time permits, will be handled by mail.)

Late Selling Cuts Grain Mart Gains

Chicago (AP)— The grain futures market backed down rather broadly Tuesday from its early highs but finished with moderate to good gains for most commodities.

Late selling as described by analysts as largely profit cashing toward balancing positions against any surprises in a monthly private crop report to be issued Wednesday. They said a forecast of cooler weather with scattered thundershowers also was at least a mildly bearish factor.

Wheat closed 1⅛ cents a bushel higher to ⅛ lower, July $1.79⅛-⅛; corn 1⅛-2⅛ higher, July $1.33⅛-36; oats ⅛-1⅛ higher, July 73⅛ cents; rye ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, July $1.24⅛; soybeans 1 to 3¼ higher, July $3.68⅛-69.

No Cloak-And-Dagger Methods For Red Spys

. . . SAYS AUSTRIAN SPY-HUNTER

Vienna, Austria (AP)—"Communist espionage methods have basically changed in recent times," veteran Austrian spy-hunter Oswald Peterlunger says.

"Nowadays spies do not cross the Iron Curtain by secret passageways, but travel to the west in sleepers," the head of the Austrian state police explains. "And they get their information from newspapers and dinner conversations rather than by cloak-and-dagger methods."

Kurt Seidler, his boss and head of all Austria's security forces, says communist secret services "are firmly established in such capitals as Washington and Bonn."

"There also is a good deal of espionage activity in Austria; as networks were set up here when the country was occupied by the Western allies and the Soviet Union," he adds.

Communist secret services in Vienna are interested in technical, economic and political information about Austria—the latter especially since Austria tries to join the Common Market—but Vienna also is a favorite meeting place where information and orders can be exchanged, and is used as a clearinghouse.

Some of the persons who come over to Austria as refugees are in fact secret agents, Peterlunger says. They can be divided into two classes:—those who volunteer for intelligence work to get an opportunity to leave their communist home-country and go to the West. This type contacts Austrian authorities upon arrival.

—The more dangerous type, the professional intelligence man or woman who takes on the cloak of a refugee. Systematic police investigation, fingerprinting, and shadowing "in which nothing is left to coincidence" help uncover this type of spy.

These agents work in small three-man units, Peterlunger says, and betray themseives by repeatedly meeting suspected persons, or by traveling back to their communist home-country and returning some time later without having been arrested by the Red police—who normally deal harshly with refugees returning home.

Communist intelligence services also rely heavily on the thousands of tourists who travel to the west each year.

"to get an exit permit some have to pledge to make a report on their observations in the West," Peterlunger explains.

Asked what organizations are used as covers by Red secret services, Peterlunger said, "It is clear that every trade delegation will try to investigate the market and send reports to its home office on local markets and products."

There is no organization in Austria resembling the American FBI or the Soviet KGB monopolizing the struggle against spies. But every policeman, whether he is on duty in the capital or in a small mountain village, must report observations of possible espionage activities to the provincial capital police headquarters, where a special department gathers and evaluates the information. This means that a total force of 23,500 men is pitted against foreign intelligence services.

"But the population still does not like to report to the police when they make some relevant observation or when Red agents try to recruit them," Peterlunger complained.

Saxon Hits Merge Denial As 'New Low'

Washington (AP) — Comptroller of the Currency James J. Saxon accused the Justice Department Tuesday of sinking to "a new low in antitrust law enforcement" in the area of bank mergers.

The comptroller, who has engaged in a long feud with the department's antitrust division on that subject, issued his denunciation in withdrawing his agency's approval of the merger of two State College, Pa., banks.

He said he acted at the request of the president of the First National Bank in State College, one of the two which wanted to merge, because the two small banks are unable to pay the expenses of a lawsuit brought by the antitrust division to block the amalgamation.

Additionally, Saxon said, the uncertainty which would exist during litigation would create personnel and competitive problems for the two banks.

The second bank involved in the merger plan was the Peoples National.

The antitrust division, in the suit filed in federal court for the middle district of Pennsylvania, contended the merger would substantially lessen competition and tend toward monopoly.

But Saxon said the combined deposits of the banks totaled only $34 million, less than half the deposits of a larger competitor in the area and less than 20% of the assets of other financial institutions with which they must compete.

New Black Power Attention A Boon?

Los Angeles (UPI) — Gov. Paul B. Johnson of Mississippi, deploring violence whether it be by Negroes or whites, said Tuesday the attention now focused on "black power" may be "a tremendous boon to the people of the United States."

The Mississippi Democrat also voiced his support of President Johnson's policy in Viet Nam, including the bombing of the Hanoi and Haiphong oil depots, but said if the President were running for re-election now, he doubted that he would support him. However, he said this was because of the President's stand on domestic issues, not on Viet Nam.

On the subject of "black power," the governor said: "I feel the bringing of this issue into the open as early as it has been brought will be a great help to all the people of our country. I think the tremendous majority of people of this country abhor violence by people whether they are black or white or Chinese."

He said he did not believe the more militant attitude taken by such groups as the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee and the Congress of Racial Equality would help the majority of Negroes in the United States.

He said the NAACP was a more reasonable organization in its approach of using the courts and seeking legislation. He said he thought this approach was the best avenue not only for the Negro but for whites.

Johnson said he opposed violence whether it be by Negro or white. He blamed violence on persons who he said were seeking notoriety or publicity.

"This is not confined to the Negro race," he said. "We have some white people in our state who seek publicity and make a great deal of noise but do very little in the long run to help."

Red Capital Evacuation In High Gear

Moscow (AP)—A Soviet correspondent reported from Hanoi Tuesday that evacuation of civilians from the North Vietnamese capital has gone into high gear following U.S. air raids on oil depots in the city's outskirts.

A dispatch from Tass correspondent Yevgeny Kobelev said:

"The old part of Hanoi is like an excited beehive. The narrow streets of the trading and residential districts are alive with bicycles, handcarts and cars loaded with household goods.

"The mass evacuation of the population is taking place.

"The evacuation of Hanoi actually began in April last year when the threat of American air raids was hanging over Hanoi. Some schools, colleges and certain institutions were moved out into the jungle. Many Hanoi people were parted from their children, who were scattered in distant villages.

"Now, after the U.S. bombing of the Hanoi suburb of Gia-Lam, the city's administrative committee has ordered general evacuation.

"Only those directly engaged in production and members of antiaircraft detachments are allowed to stay in the city.

"All children up to secondary school age, pensioners, tradesmen and their families are subject to immediate evacuation."

Sen. Curtis' Basin Stand Is Supported

Washington (AP)—Some Senate colleagues have offered Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Neb., their support for his plea for a closer look before Missouri River Basin states ask the federal government to set up a new basin commission.

Curtis recently wrote 19 senators from the 10 basin states suggesting further study of a proposal for creation of a new commission under the 1965 Water Resources Planning Act. The commission would develop and coordinate plans for basin improvements.

Curtis expressed fears that such a commission could be the beginning of federal control of the basin's development and eventually could result in a Missouri Valley Authority.

Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., pledged his support of Curtis' position in a letter. Hruska said that when the 1965 legislation was under consideration in the Senate he had stated it was not too early to "sound a warning" and point out some dangers for the benefit of those who would administer the program.

Cautioned

He said he had cautioned against creation of a commission that would come under federal control to the detriment of the interests of the states.

Hruska said he agreed with Curtis that there is no reason to believe the presently constituted Missouri Basin Inter-Agency Committee, made up of state and federal representatives, cannot handle the planning of the basin's development.

Sen. Milton R. Young, R-N.D., wrote Curtis "apparently my views on this move are the same as yours."

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S D., wrote that his contention has been that if a new organization is to be established it should be one controlled by the people of the valley rather than the federal government.

Sen. Milward L Simpson, R-Wyo., said he thought Curtis' position had prompted some "deserving questions" and said he was sending copies of Curtis' letter to the governors of Wyoming and Montana.

Comments Helpful

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana wrote Curtis he had not yet given the matter detailed consideration but intends to do so. He said he thought Curtis' comments would be helpful.

The 1965 law authorizes the formation of the new basin commission if half the basin's 10 governors ask for it. Three governors now have done so, including Gov. Frank B. Morrison of Nebraska, Democratic nominee for Curtis' Senate seat in the fall elections.

A SHOT IN THE ARM

When your doctor gives you a shot, you assume it's powerful because it stings. It sometimes eludes us that many of the capsules and tablets our doctors prescribe are every bit as potent and effective as an injection. Only the ouch is gone. The variety of powers in a pill is why some kinds of prescriptions cost more than others. And it's also the reason why all prescriptions should be put away safely, out of the reach of children. There's power in them there pills!
